OIL REPORT CLAIMS ILLEGALITIES

DISREGARD OF LAW CHARGED BY COMMITTEE

Findings of Senate Investigators Declare Leases "Indefensibly Wasteful" and Criticize Fall.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Flagrant disregard of the law in negotiation of the Sinclair and Doheny oil leases was charged in a report to the senate today prepared for the oil committee by its prosecutor, Senator Walsh, Montana.

The executive order by which President Harding transferred the oil reserves from the navy to the interior department was held in the report to have been illegal.

The manner in which the leases were negotiated secretly by former Secretary Fall was described as in disregard of the statutes.

The leases themselves were declared "indefensibly wasteful" and based on a policy which congress alone had authority to determine.

Fall's acceptance of $100,000 from E L. Doheny, was characterized as in the "last degree reprehensible," although no opinion was expressed as to whether the payment was in fact a loan.

Shipment by Harry F. Sinclair of a consignment of blooded cattle to Fall's ranch in New Mexico, and Sinclair's subsequent employment of Fall after he left the cabinet were cited without comment.

Likewise with comment, the report related how Sinclair expended $1,000,000 to clear Teapot Dome of conflicting claims, some of which at least were "shadowy."

Former Secretary Denby of the navy department and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt were exonerated from any part whatever in the negotiations leading up to the leases.

It was declared that despite diligent inquiry the committee found no facts of "sufficient importance to report" in support of the rumor that public officers had speculated in stocks of the Sinclair and Doheny companies.

Similarly the report said, "the evidence failed to establish the existence" of any conspiracy between oil operators and others at the republican national convention in 1920 for exploitation of public resources

Only a passing reference was made to the conflicting statements by which it had been sought to connect Edward B. McLean with a $100,000 payment to Fall, and no opinion on that subject was expressed.

Recommendation Made.

The only recommendation contained in the report, aside from a reference to court proceedings now in progress was contained in the following summary:

"Had the legislation enacted by congress been observed in its spirit in dealing with the reserves, had it not been wrested out of all reason to afford some appearance of justification for the course pursued, further action by the law-making branch might not be necessary. In view of what has transpired, it should be made plain:

"1—That no lease or other contract authorizing or providing for the extraction of oil or gas from the reserves should be entered into except upon competitive bids for which proposals should be duly advertised.

"2—That no such lease or contract should be entered into for any purpose except to protect the reserves from drainage, and for such limited areas as should be drilled to that end, unless in the case of an emergency to be proclaimed by the president of the United States

Approval Necessary.

"3—That every such lease or contract should be submitted to and approved by the comptroller general before taking effect

"4—That the authority conferred by the act of June 4, 1920, to exchange is restricted to the exchange of crude oil or gas for fuel oil or other products or derivatives of oil or gas"

President Harding was criticised for signing the executive order transferring the leases without having documentary support of any kind for for his action The department of justice also was declared to have failed to "diligently assert and maintain" the government's title to section 36 within the confines of naval reserve No 1 in California, the report stating that had this been done and three other sections properly protected the problem of drainage upon that reserve would have been relatively simple."

FEETHAM SELECTED.

LONDON, June 5.—(A. P.)—Premier Macdonald nanounced in the house this afternoon that Justice Feetham of the Union of South Africa, would be chairman of the Irish boundary commission.

Comittee Accepts Report of Walsh

WASHINGTON, June 5.—With all of the organization republicans on the committee absent, the senate oil committee today approved, with minor changes, the oil investigation report drawn up by Senator Walsh of Montana.

DAKOTA BEGINS SALE OF GAS

Six Carloads Of Gasoline, Purchased By State, Offered to Motorists In Several Cities at 18 Cents a Gallon.

(Associated Press.)

PIERRE, S. D., June 5.—Six carloads of gasoline, purchased by the state of South Dakota, went on sale today in several large cities in this state at 18 cents a gallon, which includes the 2 cent state tax.

George Henry, secretary to Governor McMaster, purchased the six carloads of gasoline at 11 cents a gallon, plus a freight adjustment of one-half cent a gallon. The state is paying the freight on the gasoline from Chicago to the central distributing station at Mitchell, from which all gasoline will be sent to the state sub-stations.

STOLEN JEWELRY FOUND BY FARMER

Loot Taken From Gresham Bank In 1921 Is Plowed Up.

WINNEBAGO, Neb., June 5.—Henry Cole, a farmer, plowing in his field, unearthed articles which proved to be jewelry belonging to Emily J. Lanyon, Gresham, Neb., stolen from a vault by bank robbers at Gresham, in 1921.

Robbers Never Found.

YORK., Neb., June 5.—The recovery of the jewelry by Miss Lanyon was verified, by the First National bank of Gresham this morning. The value of the jewelry was not given. The robbery of the bank occurred early in the morning of September 29, 1921, and amounted to over $3,000. No trace of the robbers was found at the time.

Disabled Vets Go On Strike

BALTIMORE, June 5.—The strike of disabled veterans at the veterans' bureau vocational training school, Perryville, Md., broke out afresh Wednesday with charges that resident physicians had indirectly caused the death of at least one baby because they would not care for a woman about to become a mother.

A formal demand was served upon Maj. Edward Hale, director of the school, for a promise of medical attention to the trainees and their families before the strike ends.

Eighty-six veterans are on strike, refusing to attend classes or answer calls of the officers.

BRYAN'S BOOM OUT OF SHELL

Governor Gives Out Newspaper Editorial Urging His Nomination For Presidency By Democrats.

BRYAN FOR PRESIDENT CLUB ORGANIZED HERE

Boosters Say Naming of Nebraska Executive Would Head Off Third Party Move and Unite All Democrats.

Simultaneously with the announcement Thursday morning by Sterling F. Mutz, chairman of the democratic county central committee, that a "Governor Bryan for President" club had been formed in Lincoln, copies of an editorial from this week's issue of the Farmer-Labor Herald, published at North Platte, endorsing Governor Bryan for the presidential nomination, were given out to the press from the executive office at the capitol.

Mr. Bryan himself handed out the copies of the editorial, explaining that an advance proof of it had been sent him by the publishers of the paper, with permission to make it public. In the article, he is referred to as "the most progressive democrat mentioned" among the list as democratic presidential possibilities. The suggestion is offered that if Bryan were nominated it would discourage the placing of a third party or independent ticket in the field, thus harmonizing and unifying the progressive voters.

C. A. Lord, Lincoln automobile dealer and one of the Nebraska delegates to the democratic national convention, is president of the local club formed to boost the Nebraska gov-

Herriot Turns Down Offer of Premiership

PARIS, June 5.—Political calculations were upset this evening when Edouard Herriot, radical socialist leader, refused the premiership of France.

Herriot was summoned to the Elysee palace by President Millerand and offered the premiership of the government.

It was understood he said he would not accept it unless the president would resign. M. Millerand refused to do so.

SMITH JUMPS TO SHANGHAI

America's Around-the-World Fliers Reunited When Flight Commander Makes Hop Across China Sea In Record Time.

(Associated Press.)

SHANGHAI, June 5.—America's aerial expedition around-the-world was reunited today. Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, commander, whose plane, the Chicago, was delayed at Kagoshima, Japan, yesterday, by engine trouble, today not only negotiated the 500 mile hop across the China sea, but did so in an hour and a quarter less time than was required by the two other planes of the air fleet which had preceded him.

The time made by Smith, who, with his mechanician. Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold, spent strenuous hours conquering his refractory engine in preparation for the jump, was six hours twenty minutes.

The three planes are expected to take off for Amoy Saturday.

W. J. Bryan to Be At Both Conventions

W. J. Bryan has wired his brother, Governor Bryan, that he will be in Minneapolis next Sunday, and from there will go to Chicago and to Cleveland for the republican national convention. He has been elected as one of the delegates at large from Florida to the democratic national convention at New York.

Progress Seen In Building Program

CHICAGO, June 5.—America's building program is continuing at a fairly gratifying rate "despite somewhat spotted conditions in business generally," according to President Thomas J. Vernia of the Indiana Limestone Quarrymen's association.

HELP FOR THOSE ON WAITIN GLIST

Douglas County Sheriff Wants Supplies For Men Sentenced to Pen.

Thinks State Should Furnish Them Shoes and Other Necessaries.

Sheriff M. L. Endres of Douglas county has written to the board of control asking that arrangements be made either for the state to take off his hands about 50 prisoners who have been sentenced to the penitentiary, but cannot be received there for lack of room, or else furnish them with beds, blankets, overalls and shoes, which the Douglas county commissioners refuse to provide.

There are also half a dozen men in his custody awaiting admission to the reformatory at Lincoln, and a similar problem exists as to them, Sheriff Endres says.

The presiding judge of the district court in Douglas county is quoted by the sheriff as saying that the state should furnish some of the supplies needed for prisoners whom it cannot receive in the overcrowded state institutions. Those held in jail at Omaha, under penitentiary sentence, are under commitment for terms ranging from one to ten years. Some of them have been in custody two years since being sentenced.

Sheriff Endres requests the board of control to recommend to the next legislature that more room be provided at the penitentiary and the reformatory, in order to take care of the prisoners regularly committed thereto.

Cobbler Friend Of Coolidge To G. O. P. Meeting

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 5.—James Lucey, philosopher, friend and shoemaker of President Coolidge, left last night for Cleveland where he will attend the republican national convention.

It is his first extended trip away from his work bench in twelve years and only the second since he settled in Northampton, forty-four years ago.

Just before he boarded the train, Mr. Lucey said: "A person's character may be told by the shoes he wears." President Coolidge, he added, wears only the best of shoes.

SAY AFFIANTS VARIED TALES

People Who Gave Testimony For Simmons Are Accused Of Telling Different Stories Of Case.

COUNTER-AFFIDAVITS BROUGHT TO LINCOLN

Charge Made That One Late Witness Said He Was to Receive $500 In Case Of Favorable Action.

Affidavits by which he will attempt to prove that William Wabs, and Harlan B. Black, makers of affidavits which obtained a repreieve for Walter R. Simmons, have told conflicting stories, were brought to Lincoln Thursday by A. B. Wallace, county attorney of Boyd county. Simmons was convicted in Boyd county of the murder of Frank Phal, May 13, 1922.

Wabs in his affidavit in support of a reprieve for Simmons stated that on the night Frank Pahl was murdered he saw Pahl driving his car. Wallace's affidavits stated that Wabs later told other persons that he was not close enough to the car he saw to tell it's make, still less discern who was in it.

Wabs is also said to have declared that Harlan B. Black, who also made an affidavit favorable to Simmons, told him that he (Black) was to receive $500 if Simmons were successful in having his death sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

The affidavits are signed by Frank Stewart, his wife, Ida Stewart, and Robert H. Johnson. All state that they know Black, Wabs, and Horace Honefin, the third man whose affidavit was favorable to Simmons, very well.

Black is said by Stewart to have told him that on the night of the murder, he (Black) was at home in bed. He heard a car, Stewart says Black told him, and going to the window he saw a car at the corner where Simmons and Pahl were said to have met two bootleggers. The coroner, Stewart says, is a mile and a half from Black's house. Black, in his affidavit, said that on the night

AN EASTERN PASTOR SLAIN

Massachusetts Priest Shot to Death and Police Captain Seriously Wounded In Pursuing Alleged Assailant, Who Is Captured.

(Associated Press.)

DRACUT, Mass., June 5.—Rev Michael G. Gilbride, pastor of St. Mary's church, in the Collinville district, was shot to death at the home of John King, sr., today. Capt. David Petrie of the Lowell police, was seriously wounded while pursuing John King, jr., who was arrested and charged with the slaying.

Father Gilbride had gone to the King home to make a call. What led to the shooting was not learned.

After the priest was shot, the younger King ran from the house with a gun in his hand and rushed into the woods nearby. The Lowell police were notified and at once started in pursuit.

As they approached the woods there was an exchange of shots and Captain Petrie fell with a bullet in his body. King was slightly wounded and other officers captured him.

The man under arrest is 37 years of age.

PROHIBITIONISTS IN CONVENTION TO CHOOSE NOMINEE

Delegates From Twenty-Three States Gather At Columbus, Ohio.

Visitors Convene and Hear Keynoter—Adopt Platform Friday.

(Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—For the third time in fifty years the national prohibition party opened its national convention here today intent on nominating a candidate for president and adopting a platform that will come nearer reaching the goal of its purposes than it has experienced in the past

According to leaders, expressed last night by Dr. A. P. Gouley, of Seattle, Wash., the prohibition party has the "best opportunity since its organization to do something on its own account," that its candidate can win in the election if the proper platform is adopted and the proper man selected to head the ticket.

In the absence of National Chairman Virgil G. Hinshaw, the convention was called to order by Vice Chairman J. A. Murray of Nebraska and delegates prepared to hear the keynote address by temporary Chairman H P. Faris of Missouri Adoption of a platform and nomination of candidates will not come until tomorrow.

No Avowed Candidate.

With no avowed candidates seeking the nomination, sentiment has not crystallized sufficiently to indicate who the presidential nominee will be.

Dr. James Gibbert Macon of New Jersey, in the opening prayer, asked Divine guidance in "this crisis of our nation and party, when the wicked are strong and corruption prevails in high places."

Delegates representing twenty-three states had reported "present" a half hour before the convention opened. They included Iowa and Nebraska.

The Pennsylvania delegation of eighteen, the largest in the convention, drew cheers as they took their seats

LITTLE GIRL IS STRUCK BY AUTO

Only Slightly Hurt and Driver Commended for Having Car Under Control.

Mary Sorenson, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sorenson, of Cortland, sustained slight injuries to one foot Wednesday evening when she was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. J. E., Weinman, 2525 O street, while crossing the street at 1227 North Thirty-third street. She was visiting at the home of Mrs. M. Sorenson.

"The driver had his car under control," Mrs. M. Sorenson said, "or she might have been more seriously injured"

Weinman reported the accident to police.

JUDGE RAGAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Long An Attorney At Hastings and Former Supreme Court Commissioner.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., June 5.—Judge J. M. Ragan, attorney at Hastings for nearly fifty years, passed away at his home here at 11:15 last night. He came to Hastings in 1874 and had much to do with railroad development in this section in the early days. He served for six years on the supreme court commission of Nebraska and always took an active part in the political life of the state

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m. Friday at the home.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Paul of Canada and John of Omaha.

DEFENSE PLAN OUTLINED FOR CHICAGO BOYS

Both Sides Prepare For "Battle of Millions" Expected To Follow Indictment of Leopold and Loeb.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 5.—Prosecution and defense were preparing today for the "battle of millions," expected to follow grand jury indictments against Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaires' sons, admitted kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, schoolboy son of Jacob Franks, millionaire.

Creation of a $1,000,000 initial defense fund with which to retain the foremost legal experts in America was reported as state's attorneys announced demand would be made that trial be set for July 15, the earliest date consonant with Illinois procedure.

Two indictments against each youth, charging kidnaping for ransom and murder, both capital offenses, have been prepared and await the report of the grand jury, expected to complete its examination of witnesses today. Arraignment is scheduled for Monday.

Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, was said to be considering retention of a corps of experts, including authorities on evidence, insanity, legal tactics, and alienists. Pitted against them, State's Attorney Crowe, in personal charge of the case, said he would have three assistants.

To Watch Witnesses.

All witnesses who have testified before the grand jury will be closely watched, Michael Hughes, detective chief, said. Prosecutions for perjury will follow changed statements, it was announced.

The million dollar defense fund, established by the families of the youths, was said to be merely preliminary "Millions will fight millions," Samuel Ettelson, former corporation counsel, friend of Jacob Franks, has said.

Armed guards have been set over the evidence.

An additional motive for the slaying, besides the ransom and spirit of adventure, which Leopold and Loeb said inspired them, was reported developed yesterday. This thoery was that because of Leopold's knowledge of the criminal law, providing a death penalty for kidnaping for ransom and for murder, there was no additional risk involved in killing the boy in addition to kidnaping him for ransom.

Miss Marie Snavely has been appointed as director of the activities of the Lincoln Camp Fire during the summer because of the absence at Camp Kiwanis of Executive Secretary Miss Lola Duncan, and her assistant, Miss Dorothy Williams. Miss Snavely is a graduate of the University of Nebraska with the class of '24, and past president of the Women's Athletic association of the university.

Mrs. Ida L. Bennett, Well Known Artist and Teacher, Passes Away

Mrs Ida Leonard Bennett, 67, well known Lincoln artist and teacher for the past forty years, died at 10:20 p m., Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred W. Beckman, 1425 South Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Bennett won herself a wide reputation as an artist One of her pictures "Washington at Valley Forge," was exhibited at the World's fair in Chicago. Another belongs to the Traveling Exhibit of Nebraska Artists, sponsored by the federation of woman's clubs. A beautiful picture of "Dawn" is another of her triumphs. Mrs. Bennett painted flowers, animals and figures with equal ability, and success

Mrs. Bennett was at one time at the head of the art department of Cotner university at Bethany. She had studied interior decorating in California and had planned to open a studio in Lincoln on her return but her health failed here and her plans were never carried out.

She had taught china, oil and water color painting in Lincoln and many surrounding towns. Hundreds of homes exhibit her work today.

As a little girl, she was interested in painting and used to paint the pictures in her mother's magazines with elderberry juice because paints were hard to get. As she grew older and her taste developed she painted with real colors and spent much time in study.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Beckman, Mrs. Bennett is survived by two sons, Leonard D. Bennett of Hastings and Rezin G. Bennett of Kenesaw, Neb., three sisters, Mrs. C. L. Wilcox, Santa Fe, N. M., Mrs. S. C. Fielden, Chandlerville, Ill., Mrs. Catherine DeHaven, Kansas City, Mo., and a brother George, living in Lincoln.

MRS. IDA L. BENNETT.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p m., Friday at the home, 1425 South Fifteenth street. Rev. A. A. Brooks will officiate. Interment will be made in Wyuka cemetery.

June Graduates

In giving advice to graduates a noted educator said, "Do not enter any business that does not stimulate intellectual growth,"

Choose an occupation that is elevating and refining; an occupation that will enlarge and expand your usefulness.

This sage wisdom may be followed by taking advantage of Star Want Ads, for they have secured profitable employment for many students.

STAR WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

EIGHTH GRADERS ARE PROMOTED

Rev. F. F. Travis Urges Graduates Not to Squander Their Past.

Says It Is Worse Than Suicide to Defy the Lessons Of History.

Promotion exercises for four hundred and eighty-four eighth grade graduates of the Lincoln public schools were held at the high school auditorium at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. F. F. Travis of Grace Methodist church delivered the address.

Urging that the young folks who are just passing on to a higher plane of education and usefulness not squander their past, Rev. Travis emphasized to the graduates that the world is a vast storehouse of experience, truth and advice just as truly as it is a storehouse of material riches. He declared that "if it is almost suicide to waste from our forests and mines, it is worse than suicide to ignore or defy the lessons of history," by squandering the past.

Rev. Travis' address in part, follows:

"It is commonplace for public school students to be told that this world is a vast storehouse. Science is breaking out every day or so with new revelations of our natural riches. It is about as commonplace for an American youth to be told that our nation is the most wasteful of its natural riches. It is too true and a warning that we must ever serve on each generation. National conservation as a public policy cannot be urged too strongly. Our subject today is built upon the claim that our world is also a vast store house of experience, truth and advice just as surely as it is full of coal, iron, gold and silver. If it is almost suicide to waste from our forests and mines it is worse than suicide in the world that we have built to ignore or defy the lessons of history.

"In fact human experience is so well known that a young man or woman can go out in this highly civilized nation and actually get a post graduate course in crime, hatred, atheism, war, and most all human weaknesses. If we want to throw away our life we can find the rules to follow and do it readily. Now it is to the glory of the educators that the rules and practices of right living and constructive lives are still easier to find. All the past experience of the human family—all the past results of scientific advance, all the charts and maps of travel and exploration, the lessons of war, commerce, reform are put upon the desk of the present-day student, written and explained in well graded text books. The laboratories are filled with highly developed equipment to show how to understand the mysteries and how to use the powers of the world. Libraries are loaded with cut diamonds and refined gold. So we urge—do not squander the past. Let us take a square look at three forms in which this past lives for us.

Necessity of School Life.

"First—In our educational programs. Teachers are trained directors of youth as these enfolding minds travel rapidly over the paths develope their powers to take up adults tasks and burdens. There must stress its necessity. We might just as well be frank and tell ourselves that we will either train our minds and keep awake or get run over.

"Second — for the student who wants to learn he will find himself surrounded with elders—men and women who have been on ahead and who will talk about their mistakes and hard experiences only if some one wants wholesome advice. What a storehouse of practical wisdom can be laid in by the boy or girl who respects age and who isn't afraid of an occasional "lecture" or "sermon." The youth movement that announces that gray hairs are merely signs of senility and are to be endured is a symptom of brain softening.

"Third — The moral laws of society are about the supreme bits of wisdom. Nothing comes slower than reforms but when they do come they are priceless. Every liberty we have has been bought with blood. The restraints of moral legislation are the wise signals of danger that must be heeded. The youth that will vigorously put upon himself the restraints written by society will develop a normal strength that is the climax of education. The past comes to us through our school with a training for livelihood, a spirit for citizenship and a reverence for authority that reachest even unto God."

The graduation program was as follows:

"Melodie"—Sarasate.

March—"Our National Honor," Grant-Brooks, Junior orchestra. Charles B. Righter, jr., director.

"America"—Carey.

Invocation—Rev. Oliver M. Adams.

Piano solo—"Etude In L Minor," Heiselt; "Etude in F Sharp," Heiselt; Beth Miller, Whittier junior high school.

Address Rev. F. F. Travis.

"I Love a Little Cottage," Geoffrey-O'Hara; "A Farewell," Kingsley-Gartland; Capitol school Girls Glee club.

"Who Will O'er the Downs," English-folk song, Capitol school Boys Glee club. Miss Madge Plase, director.

Presentation of efficiency certificates, Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle, president of Principals club.

"Spring Song," Mendelssohn; "A Summer Garden," West; Prescott, schools Girls Glee club. Miss Ruth Fetterman, director.

Benediction, Rev. Oliver M. Adams.

"DIX" PLAN FOR CLASS REUNIONS IS RECOMMENDED

Secretary Holtz Gives Annual Report at Meeting of Alumni Council.

The report of Harold F. Holtz, alumni secretary and discussion of a new plan for class reunions occupied the time of the alumni council at its annual meeting Thursday morning.

Representatives from most of the classes were in attendance, about sixty in all, being present.

In presenting the new plan for reunions the secretary made the following statement in his report:

"The increasing number of classes, each class increasing in size, has made our present plan of reunion somewhat topheavy. It seems unfair any longer to ask the officers of each class to prepare for a reunion every year. We are now graduating between 800 and 1,000 annually. It is expensive and impractical to expect that classes of this size, or even classes much smaller, will come back for reunions each year in any large numbers. For that reason a new plan is submitted."

The new plan is known as the "Dix" plan and provides that each class shall come back with three others which were associated with it in college, instead of as at present, with strangers. At the end of a cycle of nineteen years each class will have held a reunion with each of the six classes contemporary with it in college.

Many Expected to View The Remains Of Bishop Stuntz

OMAHA, June 5—Preparations are being made here for thousands of visitors to pass the bier of Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, retired bishop of the Nebraska-Iowa area of the Methodist church, while the body lies in state at the First Methodist church here tomorrow, between 11 and 2:30 o'clock, when the funeral services will be held.

Honorary pallbearers selected from the Omaha area will include:

Active pallbearers selected are: Dr. Arthur Atack, the Rev. M. Allen Keith, Omaha; Rev. F. E. Pfoutz, Plattsmouth; Rev. Dr. E. L. Baker, Fremont; Rev. George D. Roberts, Glenwood; Rev. E. J. Laird, Silver City; Rev. J. O. Garder, Missouri Valley and Rev. R. Burton Sheppard, Council Bluffs.

Bureau Beginning Work of Getting Harvest Laborers

The State and Federal employment bureau is begining its work of providing laborers for the wheat fields during harvest time. A bulletin published Thursday by the Lincoln office is devoted to the conditions in the southern wheat producing states.

According to this bulletin, the wheat harvest is now getting under way in some parts of Texas, mostly in the Fort Worth districts. Few laborers from the outside are required there, however.

The harvest in the Panhandle district will begin about the twentieth of this month. The labor requirements will be met here by men from the southern states, the bulletin says. The needs are not sufficient to justify men from the northern states going there.

In Oklahoma there is every indication of an unusually good crop and probably 6,000 men from outside the state will be required. The harvest there is expected to begin about June 17. The reported wage for the ordinary kinds of work is from $3 to $3.50 a day with board and lodging.

Harvest is expected to begin in southern Kansas about June 25. Pay here will probably average between $3.50 and $4 a day with board and lodging.

Application Forms To Be Handed Veterans Made Public By General Davis.

More Than 15,000,000 Copies Printed And Will Be Distributed June 30.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Application forms on which world war veterans are to apply for adjusted compensation were made public today by Major General Davis, adjutant general of the army, in personal charge of the war department special unit created to handle the bonus and forwar approved applications to the veterans' bureau for payment or the issue of insurance certificates.

More than 15,000,000 copies have been printed and are being distributed over the country to be made available simultaneously through government and other agencies.

In an accompanying statement, General Davis emphasized that claimants have nothing to do but fill out the forms to the best of their ability, and forward them to the war department where additional information will be supplied from files. Actual distribution of blanks to claimants is expected to begin about June 30.

Newspapers were cautioned by General Davis against reprinting the application blanks as a means of speeding up the work through circulation of forms prepared at the newspapers 'expense. The government supply is more than three times the amount required. Newspapers reprinting the form should see that it is identical in every way with the government blank, General Davis said.

STILL ENTITLED TO STATE MONEY

Daughter of Murdered Man Did Not Forfeit Right By Marrying.

When the Nebraska legislature appropriated $5,000 for the two children of Robert L. Taylor, guard at the state penitentiary whom James B. King, colored convict, stabbed to death a number of years ago, it tied no strings to the money, and therefore Miss Pearl Taylor of Lincoln, did not forfeit any part of her share when she married recently and became Mrs. Pearl Drake.

This is the official ruling of Assistant Attorney General C. L. Dort, to whom the matter was referred by Mrs. Drake's attorney after the county judge's office in Lancaster had refused to o. k. a voucher in her favor for the latest installment to be paid her.

Mr. Dort finds that she is entitled to receive the regular payments, under the terms of the appropriation, regardless of the fact that she is married and presumed to have other support. Only in case of her death would the balance of the appropriation revert to the state, he holds.

Of the $5,000 set aside by the legislature, $2500 was for Mrs. Drake and an equal amount for her brother, James Taylor. The money was not to be paid all at once but in monthly allotments.

Overrules Motion To Direct Verdict In Byron Case

The motion for a directed verdict in favor of Michael Cohen, Philip Byron, Kenneth Byron and Abraham Byron, who are on trial in federal court for alleged misuse of the mails in a scheme to defraud, made Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the government's case, was overruled Thursday morning by Judge T. C. Munger.

The attorneys for the defendants began the presentation of their evidence and witnesses. However Judge Munger indicated that there had been no case made so far by the government against Michael Cohen, Kenneth Byron and Philip Byron though he refused to enter such a verdict in the records.

Judge Munger was of the opinion that there was some evidence against Abraham Byron in regard to the second and third counts. These counts deal with certain letters to the Rice Stix company of St. Louis and a credit company pertaining to the financial statement of the Famous, which the government contends is false. These letters were signed by Abraham Byron.

Nicodemus Tells of Need of School Buildings In Japan

A public meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Lincoln Classes, Reformed church in the United States, was held in St. Mark's Reformed church, on Wednesday evening, June 4.

The speaker for the occasion was Prof. F. B. Nicodemus, of the North Japan college, Sendai, Japan. Prof Nicodemus told of some of the splendid accomplishments of the Reformed Church in Japan and of the great need of chapels and school buildings there.

Miss Martha E. Zierdt, social worker and pastor's assistant, of the First Reformed church, Omaha gave a talk on her work.

Special musical numbers were rendered as follows: Tenor solo, "Consider and Hear Me," by Harold Leinberger, quartette, from the church choir, "Abide With Me," Anthem, by the church choir, "Remember Now Thy Creator."

The offering of the evening is to be dvided between the Thank Offering Hospital, for women, in China, and the Board of Home Missions, to be used where most needed.

KEYNOTER ASKS ELECTION OF A DRY CANDIDATE

Temporary Chairman of Prohibition Party Scores G. O. P. and Democrats.

H. P. Faris Urges Dry Forces To Band Together And Elect President.

(Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, O., June 5. — Law will continue to be flouted "so long as the people continue to cast their votes for liquor-controlled parties," and as the last two administrations have handled prohibition and "were found wanting," election of the prohibition ticket, "the only one which has ever stood for law and order, is necessary to the extinction of the liquor traffic," H. P. Faris of Clinton, Mo., temporary chairman, asserted in the keynote address at the national prohibition convention today.

Casting a ballot for either the republican or democratic party "was throwing your vote away," Mr. Faris admonished those who desired a sincere enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment. "For once let us quit voting our prejudices; let us carry our religion with us and put it into the ballot box. The moral and political challenge of the present hour is the need of God and righteousness in the field of politics.

"The churches of America, through their voting membership, can have anything they want of the national government, if only they will unitedly demand it. Our great republic will sink unless we 'bring forth fruits meet for repentance' by taking our God and religion into our politics and electing a party to power which has the fear of God and not the fear of man, before its eyes. If those who favor our case will espouse the same at the ballot box and elect the prohibition party's candidates ,America will have a sure enough regime of law enforcement that will show everybody that 'prohibition will prohibit.'"

Says Open Scandal.

Constitutional prohibition under the late lamented President Wilson "was openly flouted and the non-enforcement thereof became an open scandal," Mr. Faris said. "It was only upon the insistence of the people and tremendous pressure brought to bear upon congress that Mr. Wilson's efforts to stave off the day of prohibition, were defeated.

"Again, under the more recent lamented President Harding, the man who had made millions as a distiller was made secretary of the treasury and responsible 'head-over-all' for the enforcement of the prohibition law. Do you wonder that with Mellon as secretary of the treasury and head of the prohibition unit, the distillery where he made his money is still operating and by all reports never had closed since we have had prohibition, and that whisky valued at thousands of dollars, has been removed therefrom and furnished to bootleggers?

"In the present administration, why is it that almost simultaneous with the president's joining the church, he pardons one of the worst bootleggers in all America, after he had been convicted? Is it not because the liquor traffic votes as a unit, while the church divides?

Dr. Butler Criticized.

"If a certain famous—perhaps I might say infamous—president of one of the large universities of this country has his way about the matter of platform to be issued by the republican party, and gets a plank declaring for modification of the Volstead act, some mighty good people are going to find themselves out of a political home. 'God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform' and who knows; but what this very tirade of that university president, coupled with his determination to force the issue, shall be the means in God's hands of arousing and awakening the people as to the danger imminent and impending of bolshevik and anarchistic rulnation for our nation?"

Mr. Faris declared it was his "candid opinion" that fully 75 per cent of the citizenship is at heart against the continuance of the liquor traffic and want the Volstead act enforced. "I am told there is more drinking now than there ever was before prohibition. My view is that most persons are not drinking at all."

No definite planks were suggested with the exception that he said "he was agreed with a noted federal judge who said the Volstead act should be amended so that the former aliens who violate that law shall forfeit their citizenship and become automatically subjects for deportation."

"Compare our marvelous record of achievements with the record of non-action and non-results by the other parties, save as they were forced to action by the people after we had educated them up to the point of demanding action and results," declared Mr. Faris.

CONCEDES FARM RELIEF BILL HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

No Alternative Asserts Longworth After Conference With President.

Says Large Opposition in House Made It Impossible to Pass Bill.

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—After consultation with President Coolidge, Representative Longworth ,the republican leader, conceded last night there was no possibility of enacting a satisfactory substitute for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill at this session of congress.

During the day, Mr. Longworth and Representative Tincher of Kansas, and Sanders of Indiana, both members of the republican steering committee, had discussed with the president a plan they had evolved to place the marketing abroad of surplus wheat, flour and meat products in the hands of the war finance corporation, and the word had gone out that if the substitute proved acceptable to the president, it would be pressed to a vote as an administrative measure.

The announcement that no action would be taken was made after Frank W. Mondell, a war finance corporation director fresh from a conference with Mr. Coolidge, had discussed the situation for more than an hour with Representative Longworth, Representative Tincher, Sanders and Sinnott, republican, Oregon.

No Comment Made.

No comment was available at the white house as to the president's views and Mr. Mondell declined to discuss the situation beyond stating that he had left it to Mr. Longworth to make an announcement. The statement issued by the majority leader follows:

'Since the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill in the house, in consultation with many members of the house and the official representatives of the large farm organizations I have been attempting to arrive at some satisfactory measure for the relief of the agricultural situation. We have also discussed the matter with the president.

"The large majority recorded against the McNary-Haufen bill made it evident that any legislative proposition embodying the basic principles of this bill could not be passed. While fully realizing the condition of agriculture and with the most earnest desire to bring relief as far as legislatively possible, we have so far been unable to work out a plan which would command the necessary support."

Neither Mr. Longworth, nor any of his colelagues, would amplify this statement, although it was made clear that they would make no further attempt to whip a relief measure into shape.

Delta Tau Delta Takes Prize In Interfrat Sing

Delta Tau Delta was awarded the Kosmet Klub cup at the annual interfraternity sing Wednesday afternoon at the city campus. Acacia took second, and Sigma Nu third place. The cup was awarded last year to Alpha Sigma Phi, which held it until the present commencement week festivities.

Prof. R. D. Scott, Rex Cardin and Dean Parvin Witte were the judges. They formed their decision on the song used, the diction, the ensemble effect, the intonation, and the general presentation.

Marry Midshipmen After Graduation

ANNAPOLIS, June 5.—Following graduating exercises at the United States naval academy yesterday, there was a rush to the marriage altar and Dan Cupid operated his marriage mill practically on a half-hourly schedule all afternoon.

Chaplain Sidney K. Evans of the academy, performed seven marriages and an eighth couple was married in St. Anne's Episcopal church.

DEATH RESULT OF SCAFFOLD CRASH

One Man Killed and Another Probably Fatally Injured.

Four Fall Forty Feet to Cement Floor When Rope Breaks.

COLUMBUS, Neb., June 5.—One man was killed, one perhaps fatally injured and two others injured when the rope at one corner of a scaffold on which they were working broke and plunged the four men four stories to the ground on the inside of a concrete cold storage silo being erected for the Kramer Koal Co., here.

The dead are:

MARION WYSONG, 24, Eaton, O. Skull fractured, jaw broken, died in Columbus hospital thirty minutes after the accident.

The injured:

J. Roscce Bunn, 31, Camden, O., perhaps fatally injured, unconscious, lacerated forehead, broken collarbone, probable internal injuries.

Louis Lackey, 25, Camden, O., sprained back, lacerated arm.

Chester Hoffman, 23, Camden, O., lacerted arm, slight cuts and bruises.

The four men were rushed to the Columbus hospital. Wysong died thirty minutes later without recovering consciousness. His body was removed to the Henry Gass, jr., mortuary and relatives at Eaton, O., were notified of his death.

Bunn, who was the foreman of the gang, will die, according to Dr. Carroll D. Evans, jr.

The men were in the employe of the Neff & Fry company, Camden, O., contractors. The company had charge of the erection of the six cement silos, each forty feet in height, being erected for the Kramer Koal company, to be used for coal storage.

Two of the concrete silos have already been constructed. The accident happened on the circular scaffold in the second one. The men were working near the top. All of them were on a circular scaffold. The scaffold was supported by ropes of four series. Either one of the ropes broke or the support to which one end of a rope was fastened gave way.

The scaffold tipped. The men crashed to the ground forty feet below. Two of them clung to the hanging wreckage of the platform a moment before they dropped.

INCIPIENT BLAZE SMOULDERS HOURS

Phosphorus Rat Paste In Sawdust Causes Smoke Hard to Locate.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 5.—An interesting effort at fire prevention came to light here literally about 11 o'clock last night when the sirene alarm was sounded and the department was rushed to the Dolan Fruit Co's wholesale house. In but a few minutes the fire was out and it was disclosed that the presence of a fire somewhere in the building had been suspected for ten hours.

Early in the day the smell of smoke was noticeable. Search was made in the vicinity of the banana room, where heat is sometimes turned on, and at other places, but no fire or smoke could be seen. There was a belief that perhaps the fumes had come in from automobiles outside; but a careful watch was nevertheless ordered and when closing time came a special watch was put on the building.

Later in the evening, when the house had been closed for some hours, the smoke proved stronger. The watchman decided to turn out all lights and then investigate the building thoroughly to see if sparks anywhere would show. The effect was rewarded. In the basement he discovered the slow burning of some sawdust, used for sweeping purposes and along a tube of rat paste, part of which had been eaten away by rates and left in the sawdust. The pastels said to contain phosphorous and thus to have started smoldering spark when coming in contact with the sawdust.

But for his alarm at the possibility of its blazing up, the watchman could have extinguished the fire with the bucket of water which had been kept handy throughout the building. There was no damage.

Asserts Daugherty Fears Examination

ST. LOUIS, June 5—"Harry Daugherty does not dare face the senate inquisitors and be subjected to cross examination under oath," said Senator Burton K. Wheeler, democrat, Montana, here yesterday when informed of Daugherty's defiance of the Brookhart-Wheeler committee, investigating the department of justice under the Daugherty administration.

Senator Wheeler is here on a two day visit.

Ends Life When Wife Bobs Hair

HAMMOND, Ind., June 5.—Bobbed hair on his wife led Stanley Czajkowski, East Chicago, to commit suicide.

When he returned home from work and saw his wife's hair bobbed, he said to her, "you've gone crazy, too."

He retired into another room and shot himself, according to his wife's testimony at the inquest.

ASSERTS MEAT IS NECESSARY FOOD

Live Stock Board Director Speaks to State Meeting At North Platte.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 5.—"While other food interests are seeking to displace meat in the diet with their own particular products, they are, on the contrary, unwittingly impressing it upon the public mind that meat is the all-important basic food," said R. C. Pollock, managing director of the national live stock and meat board, in an address here today before the annual convention of the Nebraska Stockgrowers' association.

Mr. Pollock based his statement on methods followed in advertising various foods in which, he said, meat is invariably used as a comparison in proclaiming the nutritious value of the article in question. He pointed to breakfast food, vegetable and fruit advertising as examples.

Food fanatics admit the value of meat in their presentation of menus which, they claim, contain just as much nutriment as if meat were included, according to the speaker.

"No one will deny that the classes of foods I have mentioned are a necessity," he declared. "However, it is the well balanced diet which contributes to a strong, healthy nation. The live stock producer is the prominent factor in this great industry supplying our basic food which is recognized as the center around which this diet is built."

F. M. Broome, Secretary of the Nebraska Stockgrowers' association, said that the facts brought out by Mr. Pollock are of real importance to live stock growers of Nebraska. He requested producers of this state to lend assistance in bringing before the public the value of meat as a food. In the past, according to Mr. Broome, the live stock grower felt that his only problem lay in the production of cattle, sheep or hogs but he must realize that the establishing of close relations with the consumer plays a large part in assuring his success.

Roosevelt Replies To a Criticism Of McAdoo's Manager

NEW YORK, June 4.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the New York state committee for the nomination of Governor Smith for president, yesterday took cognizance of the recent statement of David Rockwell, William McAdoo campaign manager, charging a newspaper conspiracy against Mr. McAdoo.

"I suppose every campaign manager for backer of a favorite son has to go through exactly the same mental strain that Judge Rockwell is apparently suffering from," said Mr. Roosevelt.

"Even I, in my very limited experience, have felt at moments that every newspaper had entered into an iron bound, hard and fast conspiracy to either prevent from being printed or to pervert everything I said. Everybody who is enthusiastic for a candidate believes that everything about him should be printed on the first page, first column, in the way that brings him most favorably to the attention of the public."

COOLIDGE FROWNS ON AN INSURGENT AS RUNNING MATE

Wants Man of Own Political Mind, President Tells Party Chiefs.

Hoover and Lowden Discussed Almost to Exclusion Of All Others.

(Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., June 5—President Coolidge has sent direct word to the republican party managers describing the type of man he wants for a running mate.

The president's word reaffirms the previous understanding that he wants a man of his own political mind and does not wish the national ticket to represent an attempt to recognize the insurgent wing of the party.

Mr. Coolidge has told those to whom he confided his wishes that the vice presidential candidate should be a man who could carry an assurance to the country that should he succeed to the presidency there would be no change in the fundamental policies of the administration.

With this in mind the party managers, who are carefully making a pre-convention canvass of available with the idea of agreeing on a man who will be aceptable to the president and agreeable to the delegates, are continuing to discuss Secretary Hoover and former Governor Lowden of Illinois, almost to the exclusion of others who have ben mentioned.

Possibility Removed.

Word from Washington that Senator LaFollette would not be formally placed in nomination for the presidency removed one of the last possibilities for a touch of the old fashioned convention and left nothing in sight but a ratification meeting.

The fact that all the members of the Wisconsin delegation but one will cast their votes for the Wisconsin senator from the floor, still barred any possibility that Mr. Coolidge would be nominated by acclamation. The substitute platform to be offered by the Wisconsin delegation will present the only semblance of a contest.

Platform builders are having a slow time pending the arrival of Charles B. Warren, American ambassador to Mexico, who will be chairman of the resolutions committee. In the meantime, thousands of suggestions are pouring in by mail and representatives of various organizations who always swarm around the platform committee door seeking recognition for their ideas and proposals are beginning to arrive on the ground. Tentative drafts are assuming bulky proportions, but there are no indications that the platform in finished form will depart from the fundamental principles of the party.

WILBUR SPEAKS TO GRADUATES

Navy Secretary Stresses Need Of Leadership In Annapolis Address.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 5.—Leadership is not "dependent upon gold braid or gold lace or commissions written upon parchment" but upon the personal attributes of officers, Secretary Wilbur of the navy department, said in his address yesterday to the graduating class at the naval academy.

"Real leadership is based upon respect for the leaders," the secretary said.

He added that most of the navy enlisted men returned to civil life after an enlistment or two.

"Here is a fertile field for the propagation of true patriotism," he said.

WANT TO REPAVE SOUTH ELEVENTH

Property Owners Agree to Ask For New Asphalt On Center Strip.

Property owners on South Eleventh from M. to J streets have agreed to petition the city council that a strip forty feet wide be paved down the center of Eleventh street. This action was taken at a meeting held at Troyer's chapel Wednesday. Twelve were present.

An injunction was obtained agaist the city by these owners last October to prevent Commissioner Cowgill, who had without warning ordered the repavement of the street from O to J, from carrying out his plans. Two blocks of asphalt were torn up before the injunction could be issued.

All of those who attended the meeting Wednesday favored repavment of a forty foot strip, leaving a fifteen foot margin of the present surface on either side. They claim that the fifteen foot areas will stand up for several years.

If their petition which will probably be presented to the council Monday, is granted, the injunction will be removed. Those who are to circulate the petition are Will W. Wertz, E. W. Truman, jr., and Henry Pfeiff.

DINNER FOR FARM BOYS AND GIRLS

Club Members From Over the State Guests of Chamber Of Commerce.

Boys' and Girls' club members of the state were guests of the Lincoln chamber of commerce Wednesday evening at a rousing banquet and entertainment.

There was more shouting, laughing and cheering than speaking, and enough music and entertainment and moving picture comedy interspersed to keep the fun lively.

Frank D. Tomson was toastmaster, Mayor Zehrung welcomed the 300 visitors, and told them something of their capital city. W. J. Kirkbride spoke of the capital city as a business center, and Rev. A. A. Brooks called attention to its religious and educational atmosphere. Mrs. J. J. Donohue of Inland, a club worker for five years, assured the members of the chamber of commerce of their guests' appreciation for the good time showa them.

Two shots spat out from one end of the dining hall just as dinner was over, and two capable looking policemen appeared dragging one small man between them. They shackled him, and were about to lead him off when he begged to play a violin, and with his music bought freedom. It turned out that the would-be "assassin" was Koby Sirinsky, and that the near assassination was a hoax on the farm boys.

In preparation for this shooting fray, seven Y. M. C. A. boys had engaged in a wild dance. Campfire girls, dressed as farmettes and farm lasses, sang later, and Bess G. Morrison entertained with several readings.

Elder Son of President Is A Graduate

MERCERBURG, Pa., June 5—John Coolidge, elder son of President and Mrs. Coolidge, was graduated at Mercersburg academy yesterday. The president was unable to attend the commencement exercises because of pressure of business at Washington. Mrs. Coolidge was present with some friends.

The announcement of awards showed that John Coolidge had won fourth prize in theme writing in the English department and he also was manager of the track team during the past year.

In addition to these honors, the president's son delivered one of the eight honorary orations.

Virgil G. Hinshaw Announces Decision Shortly Before Convention.

(Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Retirement of Virgil G. Hinshaw, for twelve years chairman of the prohibition national committee, was announced last night when that body met preparatory to the national convention of the party. J. C. Bell, California member of the committee, explained that committee affairs would prevent Mr. Hinshaw from continuing his office.

Fourteen states were represented at the committee meeting. Other members were delayed enroute. Members were present from Connecticut, California, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Chapter CX

Lurope! He was going to Europe! The ocean would be between him and her!

A dark gulf seemed to be opening at her feet She gripped the arms of her chair very tightly to keep from crying out that he must not go that she could not bear it

Then she felt that he was looking at her She must say something—something to keep him from suspecting what she was suffering

"I—I—did not know, she stammered, "that you thought of going to Europe"

"Yes," he said gently and she was sure that his eyes were resting on her "At least that is my present plan"

"I hope," she swallowed hard to keep her voice from breaking, 'that you will have a lovely time"

"There is only one thing that makes that impossible," he said rising and coming close to her, 'and that is you, Winifred."

'Me" she managed to murmur

"Yes," bending over the back of her chair, "you dear You see, child, I am not a boy, but a man over forty who cannot change his feelings I wish I could, for then I would not love you as I do—would not want you where I am always"

He put his hands under her chin and, lifting her face, looked down into her eyes What he saw there made him drop on his knees at the side of her chair, as he had done twice before, and take her in his arms

"Little girl! Little girl!" he pleaded "Do you mean it?"

'What?" she whispered

"What I see in your eyes, darling" She put her arms about his neck and clung to him

'I do not know what you see in my yes," she said "But my heart is almost breaking with love for you, Donald!'

"Oh, my dear!" he said, holding her close, 'you have given me the most beautiful Christmas present in the world But," disengaging her arms from about his neck and looking down again into her eyes, "are you sure you love me—sure you are not just sorry for me?'

She smiled up at him with such happiness that there could be no doubt as to her answer

"Sorry for you!" she exclaimed 'I was so sorry for myself, Don, when you spoke of going away that I thought I should die then and there! And, dear, I wanted to!"

'And my heart was aching with the thought of leaving you!" he told her! "Yet I could not have stayed here and kept on seeing you as I saw you tonight and not tell you the truth"

"Then you are not going abroad?" she asked

"Yes," he said "But I am going to take my wife with me Can you be ready by February first?"

"Oh, yes!" Then, with a shy laugh, "anyway, if I cannot get all my trousseau by then, I can get the rest in Paris, can't I?"

"No," he told her "You must get your trousseau here, and then I can have the fun of giving you presents of what you want in Paris And, by the way I do not propose to return to New York until late in the summer—if you would like to travel a bit What do you say to France and Italy until May—and then Great Britain for the summer'

"Oh, wonderful,' she exclaimed "But what will become of Mrs Bates?"

"She can stay right on here and keep house for herself all summer," he replied 'unless you object In the fall, when we get our own home, we will engage her as housekeeper—just to make things a bit easier for you, For, honey, we must have your friends and mine in our home, to make up for the lonely kind of childhood you have had.

'What a dear you are Donald' she sighed Then a swift compunction

"But, all this will cost such an awful amount' Can you afford it, Donald?'

He laughed happily 'Yes dear, I can afford it I am not a Croesus, but I have made god money for a number of years—and now I propose that my wife shall help me enjoy it.'

"You must have a lot of money to plan to do all those beautiful things" she sighed "But I would love you if you did not have a cent"

'I am sure you would,' he averred

The thought of money reminded her all at once of something she had forgotten during the happiness of the past few hours Her face sobered suddenly

"Donald" she demanded "where did that fifty thousand dollars that was deposited to Richard's account come from?"

He flushed hotly 'How should I know?" he evaded

Then she understood the truth "Oh, Donald!' she exclaimed "you did all that for him"

"No dearest, he contradicted for you 'To bring out what was best in him—if it was there—and give him a chance to make you happy'

'You risked all that—and lost!" she exclaimed

'No, sweetheart" kissing her—'I asked that—and won!'

OVATION GIVEN CYRUS WOODS

Crowds Jam Tokio Station to Bid Farewell to American Ambassador.

Demonstration Surprisingly Hearty In View Of Anti-American Feeling.

(Associated Press)

TOKIO June 5—Cyrus E Woods the retiring American ambassador was the central figure of an ovation when he left Tokio this morning by train to board the President McKinley at Yokohama for home

Crowds jammed the station filled the plaza fronting the station and "banzaied' as the ambassador with his aged invalid mother in-law, Mrs Marchand on his arm made his way through the throng with difficulty with the aid of the police

The ovation was surprisingly large and hearty in view of the anti-American tenor of public feeling It is estimated that 10 000 people were present

An extra police guard was stationed along the route followed by the Woods party but the demonstration incident on his departure passed off without a sign of anything but friendliness for him

Mr Woods boarded the steamer at Yokohama today It sails at 3 p m, Friday

URGES ADHERENCE TO DAWES REPORT

German Chancellor Designates It As Pivotal Point in Foreign Policy.

(Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 5—Frankly designating the Dawes report as the pivotal point in German s foreign relations and reiterating the ministry's adherence to its previous acceptance of the experts recommendations as a basis for the approaching reparations negotiations Chancellor Marx's statement in the reichstag yesterday on the occasion of his reappearance at the head of the second cabinet bearing his name was occupied entirely with references to the nation's foreign relations as affected by the enforcement of the Dawes report

The chancellor avoided any specific mention of measures for the relief of the internal situation, declaring that with the provisions of the Dawes report once approaching execution the home situation would obviously react to the general movement toward economic rehabilitation

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It.

Bridgeport, Connecticut.—"I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings and other troubles women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. I am feeling very good now and shall continue taking them for a while. I have been telling my cousin about the medicine and she wants to take it, too. I always recommend it."—Mrs. HENRY C. SMITH, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 6, Bridgeport, Conn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 per cent. reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

BOYS AND GIRLS SEE NEW CAPITOL

Club Workers Make Call On Governor — Visit Big Department Stores.

Spend Friday In Omaha and Will Return to Homes Saturday Morning.

Every one of the boys and girls at the annual club week at the agricultural college this week was told by the folks at home to see the new state capitol before they left Lincoln, so a trip was made this afternoon. A short call was made upon Governor Bryan to pay the respects of the best farmers and home makers of Nebraska to him and then a tour was made of the capitol building that is under the process of construction. The farm boys and girls were all deeply impressed by the splendor of the finest building of its kind in the world and they will go back into their several communities to tell about it, they say.

The large group was divided and half of them went to Rudge & Guenzel and the other half went to Miller & Paine to visit large department stores of Lincoln.

All the baseball talent from the many communities of Nebraska will be exhibited in several hotly contested games late this afternoon on the agricultural college campus. The boys have been practicing all week, and the ability already shown indicates that some real ball will be played.

The boys and girls entertain themselves this evening with some competitive stunts that are to depict how improvements can be made in club work to continue "Making the Best Better," according to the present club motto. These stunts have been one of the most comic features of the entire week but they have always taught a lesson.

Early in the morning, the whole party will take a special train to Omaha to spend the day in the stock yards, packing houses, at the Exchange building for lunch as guests of the Livestock Exchange, and at the Union Pacific shops, the World Herald Building, and a swim in the afternoon. They banquet with the Omaha Chamber of Commerce in the evening and return home for a last night's sleep at the college before returning home on Saturday morning.

ELKS TO STAGE SPRING FROLIC

Plan Week's Entertainment at Capitol Beach Starting June 15.

The Elks have completed arrangements to stage an entire week of frolic at Capitol Beach. The date has been set for the week starting June 15. The local Elks are arranging special programs and committees are being appointed to handle all the different additional features of amusements, sports and attractions that will be staged for that week.

Among the outdoor free exhibitions the Elks have contracted for the first appearance in this city of the "sensational Elliotts." This is reputed to be the highest aerial act in the world performed without the protection of nets. The steel apparatus upon which they perform is 100 feet high. One feature of the act is introducing the head balance at the very top of one of the poles. This is the climax of the act. Without doubt this act is the only one of its kind in the world. The "Sensational Elliotts" carry special electrical effects for night work. The Elks are congratulated upon being able to secure this real thriller for the head-liner for their week of frolic.

Name Chaplains To Officiate At G. O. P. Meeting

(Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, June 5.—Chaplains to officiate at the republican national convention here next week were named today as follows:

First day, Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, Methodist Episcopal church; second day, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, New York City; third day, Bishop Joseph Schrembs, Cleveland Catholic diocese.

Hastings to Have Large Pipe Organ In Its Auditorium

HASTINGS, Neb., June 5.—Hastings will install a $13,750 pipe organ in the new auditorium about September 1. The contract for the instrument has been signed and the artist, Ambrose Larsen of Chicago, engaged for the opening concert.

The organ will be one of the largest in the state, none outside of Lincoln and Omaha coming near its size.

It will be equipped for use as a pipe organ for recitals and to accompany choruses or as a 29-piece orchestra, designed to supply the full musical needs of a theatre.

It has been pointed out that such an organ should bring about the organization of a choral society for which the 500 children who appeared in the school contata last week, might well form the future nucleus.

"Flowing Gold" Taxing the Capacity of the Rialto This Week.

For real enjoyment, recreation and entertainment, go to the Rialto this week. "Flowing Gold" is Rex Beach's latest magnificent drama with spectacular settings with a superb cast which includes Milton Sills and Anna Q. Nilsson. The short subjects are unusually good and the added attraction a very pretty and novel musical offering presented by Mabel Ludlam and Samuel Alstadt.

FLIPPIN JURY IS NOT YET AGREED

Out For Twenty-four Hours Without Reaching a Verdict.

GRAND ISLAND, June 5 — The jury in the case of the state vs. Charles Flippin, aged negro physician, on one of four charges of criminal operations, had, at noon today, been in its room deliberating for twenty-four hours. Judge Clements called the jurors into court at 10 o'clock asking them if there was any point with reference to the law, in which he could assist them. The foreman reported that the differences existing had to do with the evidence rather than with the law, and the body was sent back to continue its deliberations.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

LOUISVILLE, June 5.—Election of officers and selection of the 1925 convention city, following a morning session at which discussion of circulation problems was held, filled the program for the closing day of the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the International Circulation Managers' association.

DADDOW IS NOW YOUNGEST GRAD

Hastings College Honor Is Snatch From Clyde Aitchison.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., June 5.—Clyde Aitchison, member of the interstate commerce commission, who has always held the record of being the youngest graduate of Hastings college, was forced to give up his laurels this year. Mr. Aitchison graduated at eighteen years in 1893. Wilbur Daddow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Daddow, 400 East Seventh street, beat him by five weeks.

Daddow's record is considered a remarkable one. He graduated from high school at 15 years and then made the four year college course in three years, standing well toward the top of his class in scholarship as well as sports and other student activities. He has been a close contender for the tennis championship here for the past two years.

Clyde Aitchison delivered the commencement address for the college in the Presbyterian church Wednesday morning.

He told of the heavy responsibilities which so often lie on the college trained, but declared that the opportunity for service is the greatest in the history of the nation.

There were thirty-four graduates this year, one of the largest classes of the school. There were forty-one however, last year.

Six students received the cum laude degree, having had grades which averaged more than 90 per cent during their four years of college. They were Ruth Ager Beaver City; Herbert Anderson, Columbus; Emory Austin, Ponca; Gertrude Glassey, Fort Morgan, Colo.; Raleigh Holmstedt, Paxton, Colo.; and May Overton, Hastings.

For the first time in the history of the school, third year forensic gold medals were awarded this year. Dean E. Shaffer of St. Edward, Neb., and Lester Eisel of Kansas City, Mo., being thus honored.

There were thirteen graduates from the college academy.

RUMORS DENIED.

BUCHAREST, June 5.—Denial of sensational rumors regarding the international situation in Rumania is made in a semi-official statement which attributes the stories to persons seeking to affect the stock market. Perfect order prevails, it was said. One of the rumors was that General Averesco, former premier, was marching on Bucharest at the head of 50,000 peasants.

COUNCIL REPORTS.

BOSTON, June 5.—Foreign trade is an economic necessity for this country—and a privately owned and operated merchant marine is indispensable to its development and maintenance, it is declared in a committee report presented today at the annual convention of the National Foreign Trade council.

MR. COOLIDGE'S CANDOR.

The most engaging side of President Coolidge's personality is the frank and candid fashion in which he meets political problems He has none of the tiresome wiles of the practical politician In the case of a large number of men, the same trait of candidness might prove a serious handicap Not so with President Coolidge It is his greatest source of strength

In a number of cases recently the president has shown the utmost candor in presenting his own personal views, which were not in harmony with what he must have known to be the sentiments of a very considerable portion of the electorate

Now he comes forward again and provides the politicians with another political shock He has let it be known that he does not want to recognize the insurgent wing of the republican party in the selection of a running mate for him Mr Coolidge wants a vice presidential nominee who shares the same political beliefs which he himself holds as assurance there would be no radical departure from the Coolidge policies in the event that the vice president were to succeed to office The president's desire will govern

There is slight chance of recognition of the progressive sentiment in the agricultural states of the middle west Senator Borah, who had been vigorously boomed as a running mate for Coolidge is not in the running Judge Kenyon of Iowa can hardly qualify. The choice narrows down to General Charles G Dawes of Chicago and ex-Governor Lowden of Illinois Both men are thoroughly in sympathy with the president's domestic views and foreign matters are not of sufficient importance in their eyes to cause any serious difference

The voters should welcome the president's action in this matter Strong pressure had been brought to bear to force the selection of a middle western man of known progressive tendencies That was for political effect That was the 'sop' to be thrown out to the agricultural states in order to hold them into line The east was known to be strongly committed to the Coolidge candidacy and to the republican program The politician had his eyes turned to the middle west where there were rumblings of discontent and dissatisfaction

President Coolidge elects to stand or fall on the traditional conservatism of the republican party He will not practice the customary tricks of the politicians He will not be guilty of confessing sympathy for a political philosophy for which he has no use He is willing to go before the country with the issue squarely drawn between New England conservativism and the progressive sentiment which originated in the middle west

It is fortunate indeed that the west may make its choice without having the issues obscured

TARIFF REVISION AND THE G O P

One of the most significant signs of the times is the announcement by Judge E B Perry chairman of the Nebraska delegation to the republican national convention, that it will support a platform plank declaring for downward revision of the tariff He frankly states that public sentiment in Nebraska and throughout the middle west favors such action and suggests that the republican party cannot afford to ignore that sentiment

Judge Perry recognizes the trend of political thought in the agricultural west and desires to place his party in a better position before the voters than it now occupies He sees clearly that if it goes into the campaign as the champion of the Fordney-McCumber tariff it will be in danger of losing a great many states where farming is the basic occupation of the people and the source of their prosperity

It is questionable, however whether the controlling elements of the g o p will permit anything to go into the platform which proposes to lower the tariff on manufactured goods A very large proportion of campaign contributions for the republican party comes from the eastern beneficiaries of tariff 'protection," and they will strenuously oppose any move to separate them from the good thing they now have

With a presidential candidate from New England who is reported to be insisting on the nomination of a standpat running mate for the vice presidency the party is not likely to reverse itself on the policy it has always stood for hitherto A republican national convention expressing disapproval of a tariff law passed less than three years ago by a republican congress would be a very unique spectacle, indeed

Will Nebraska and other western states ordinarily republican, stay in line for Coolidge if their demand for tariff revision is unheeded? Will their people be satisfied if the outcome should be a 'straddle plank' on that subject?

These are times when party names carry little weight with the average voter Men and women are thinking along independent lines and the voting next fall will be largely on that basis The people have very definite ideas concerning political questions, and overwhelming public opinion in this section of the country is hostile to the continuance of any policy which bleeds the west in order to fatten the east The square deal idea has come to the front once more and is certain to be a vital factor in the outcome of the national elections.

There is no question that Judge Perry has accurately voiced what most Nebraskans, without regard to party affiliations, think and feel at the present time The state platform adopted by the republican party at its convention held May 1 in Lincoln did not endorse the Fordney-McCumber law in fact, it avoided any mention of the tariff The import of such an omission cannot be misunderstood, it is eloquent testimony that the leaders of the Nebraska g o p are fully aware of the widespread dissatisfaction which the New England New York Pennsylvania-New Jersey tariff has produced throughout the agricultural regions

It looks now as though tariff revision and tariff reduction may be the big issue of the presidential campaign Any party which sponsors the present law will be at a great disadvantage in Nebraska and its neighboring states Farmers and other consumers of manufactured products will be impelled to give their support to some party which promises specific relief from excessive duties on clothing, shoes, dry goods, agricultural implements, citrus fruits, and other necessities

If Judge Perry and his fellow delegates from Nebraska should accomplish the unexpected at Cleveland and obtain the insertion of a plank in the platform for downward tariff revision they will be entitled to hearty congratulations from the people of their state While the prospect is not promising they can at least let the rest of the country know where Nebraska stands

WHERE THE TARIFF FAILED.

One instance where the McCumber-Fordney tariff measure has failed to accomplish the purposes it was intended for is found in the case of Fall River, Mass, according to William Robinson, writing in The New Republic

Known as the Manchester of America because of the vast cotton mills within her borders, the officials of Fall River have faced a serious problem because of the unemployment existing there It has been necessary to appropriate $243,000 for relief purposes, in addition to a surplus fund of $16 000 carried over from the previous year Many more thousands will be spent by private individuals and by organizations for relief work, Mr Robinson declares

Of the 111 mills in Fall River, not a dozen are running full time, he says Of the 131,000 people living in that city, about 100 000 are dependent for a living upon the wages paid by the mills It is impossible to determine just how many are out of employment, he says, but some of the mills are managing to use their workers a few days each month Estimates of unemployed vary from 30,000 to 70,000 people

It would be unfair to blame this situation entirely to the tariff although the prices for cotton goods resulting from the provisions of the Fordney-MacCumber law undoubtedly are somewhat responsible for the diminished demand Then it has been apparent for some time that the tasts of people have changed Silks and satins and other kinds of goods have in a large measure replaced cottons The extravagances which came with war prosperity, when thousands who were formerly contented with the cottons transferred their tastes to other goods has probably brought about the situation in Fall River to an even greater extent than the fact that tariff schedules enabled the manufacturers to raise the prices until the public would not purchase cotton goods

But the tariff could not reach the domestic situation and in fact only tended to inflame it

BISHOP STUNTZ'S DEATH.

Bishop Homer C Stuntz whose death occurred in Omaha Tuesday morning was a dynamic figure in the Methodist church His influence, however was not confined to the one denomination in which he played such a prominent role He contributed very largely to the life of the community in which he lived

In two instances particularly Bishop Stuntz performed notable service He had served for years in the mission field He had an intimate knowledge of world conditions When the question of world organization against future wars came to the front, and America's responsibility to the rest of the world he did not hesitate to plead fervently and convincingly for American participation No church representative in the United States was more outspoken than Bishop Stuntz in his advocacy of an international union against war

During the war, he took a very prominent part in the various activities which developed He was deeply and sincerely devoted to the cause of the Allies and he did not hesitate to express his convictions on every occasion.

His arduous labors during the war period and immediately following when the question of world peace was uppermost in the minds of the people, may have contributed to his death, his friends believe Untiring in his efforts militant, with the zeal of a crusader it will be a difficult matter indeed, to find a successor for Bishop Stuntz, who can carry on the work as effectively as he did

ROCKWELL'S COMPLAINT

Mr McAdoo's manager David Ladd Rockwell will not reflect intelligence in the campaign which is being made in behalf of the presidential ambitions of the former secretary of the treasury by filing charges that the newspapeds of America were in conspiracy against Mr McAdoo

Everything detrimental to Mr McAdoo is given a conspicuous position in the public print Mr Rockwell says That which is favorable to his candidacy for president is either completely surpressed, or is relegated to a place of unimportance in some section of the paper

Certainly Mr McAdoo's campaign is in a bad way when his manager finds it necessary to come forward with charges that the American newspapers have joined in a conspiracy against the former secretary of the treasury No man has been more generously exploited through the columns of the press No one ever made better use of advertising than has Mr McAdoo Mr Rockwell's utterances are so childish and ridiculous that they should be rebuked by Mr McAdoo himself

The telephone is a great invention It enables a lot of people to speak their minds who would otherwise be silent

So live that when the end of the year comes around there will at least be enough left to pay the income tax

And now we are ready for the straw hat proclamation

More Truth Than Poetry

Reports come in from everywhere
Concerning strife or threats of strife
There's always trouble here or there
To take the sunshine out of life,
No sooner has a war been fought
Than somewhere else another brews
Things don't go forward as they ought,
The world's in need of more good news

The men who govern never find
A way to make the governed glad,
It seems that people are inclined
To think the outlook always bad
The letters that the postment leave
Too oft are bills or duns or dues
It's pitiful that men must grieve
Why can't we all have more good news?

Think how the clouds would blow away,
If good news came on every breeze
The gloomy boys would all be gay
The prospects all of course would please
If preachers had good news to spread
They'd never preach to empty pews
For those who lead and for the led
There's daily need for more good news

Uproot the evils that exist,
And drag the plotters from their seats,
Cut taxes all along the list
Drive off the grafters and the cheats
Away with every solemn crank
Who paints the scene in sombre hues,
And in each platform put a plank
Demanding for all men good news

A Bit of Homely Philosophy

TO UNBEND AND BE NATURAL SHOWS YOUR CONTROL OF YOURSELF

The man with a ready smile is usually considered somewhat shallow

It is thought that he has never gotten under a heavy life burden

It may be that for this reason you have assumed the character or appearance of a man strong in convictions carrying about with him immense business loads—one who is a deep thinker and a ruler of men according to your idea.

In order to represent a character which you imagine is the personification of real importance you have driven real sunshine out of your life

How foolish!

True there is time for levity and time for sober thought, there is time for hard work and for wholesome play one should not encroach upon the other, but—when either is being followed there should be the right spirit back of it

Because you smile easily is not a good reason for saying that you are not strong in a business way

Because you can unbend and be as natural as a child at times when you should be relaxed and fun filled is the best indication that you are in control of yourself and are a real human being

Dancing Feet

Mercury of the Winged Feet and Diana of the Chase covered a great deal of territory without suffering from foot troubles But they, of course, were dieties Things go harder with mere humans who responded to the spring time urges of hikes tennis baseball and golf

The difference between being a diety and being a human, insofar as foot troubles are concerned is largely a matter of atrocities known as shoes Whittiers' barefoot boy knew no corns

Being a conventional person you probably cannot escape the necessity for encasing your feet in leather Make sure then never to walk out of a shoe store with a pair of shoes that hurt even slightly Badly fitting shoes can be broken in, but your feet are too tender and too valuable to be used for that purpose just as teeth are to valuable to be used for cracking had shelled nuts If one shoe dealer cannot fit you properly another one can

Assuming that your shoes are correct shape and size the next trouble to dodge is heat Shoes allow little or no ventilation Exercise produces prespiration and perspiration can do much damage If your feet get hot and sweaty, make it a point to exhange your stockings and shoes during the day The amount of foot comfort gained from this simple procedure will prove a revelation to suffers who have never tried it

Warm water is a marvelous remedy for tired itching burning feet After a thorough soaking dry carefully and dust with any good astringent powder like stearate of zinc

Callous spots are to be avoided by applying adhesive tape to any spots that are rubbed Nightly applications of cold cream or mentholatum too, will tend to prevent callouses.

Bad feet—twisted toes fallen arches corns, bunions, ingrowing nails, etc etc—are the rule rather than the exception These suggestions will help adults, but the adults can do even more to help children By taking extra pains to have your youngsters properly shod, you can same them many hours of agony and discomfort in the years to come In buying your children's shoes, place less emphasis on the durability of the shoes and more emphasis on the durability of the foot Shoes can be replaced much easier than feet

Afraid of the People

LINCOLN Neb, June 1—To the Editor of The Star Will you please publish the following open letter addressed to Governor Charles W Bryan and Adam McMullen Gentlemen On May 25, I addressed to you an open letter asking you to make known to the people of Nebraska your position on the proposed amendment to our constitution providing for a single house legislature of one hundred members and I thought I had a right as a citizen and voter to a frank reply to a question of such tremendous importance to the people of our state

Since I failed to get a reply to that letter I am wondering whether as candidates for the highest office in the gift of the people of our state you know that blind voting is the greatest handicap that has ever stood in the way of better government since government by parties has fastened upon the people a vision of spoils instead of righteous laws For a hundred years we have been building political parties instead of laying well the foundations of better government and party regularity has come to be a stronger appeal than righteous laws

Failing to receive a reply from either of you I am impressed that it is my duty as a citizen to call your attention more fully to some of the reasons for asking for the right to submit the proposed change in our machinery for lawmaking that I might make more certain that in your busy lives you had not overlooked the dangers that lurk in our old and worn out bicameral system of lawmaking

A vote in a republic is a sacred thing Lawmaking through our partisan political bicameral system of legislation is the application of the philosophy of hate and contention to this all-important function of government Partisan political contention has brought this nation and this state to the very brink of economic ruin Political platforms have come to mean nothing and the people are crying out in their distress and bewilderment 'partisan political lawmaking has failed' Keen in their remembrance of the political war that was staged in the last session of our legislature thinking men and women are seeking for a remedy for this condition in our government They have come to believe that through a single house legislature with every member unfettered by political handicaps they could study legislation from the standpoint of the welfare of the people instead of the welfare of political parties

Our petitions simply ask for the right to submit the question to the voters for study and then for their approval or rejection at the polls Your silence compels us to conclude that you are afraid of the people Can it be possible that both candidates for the highest office in Nebraska are afraid to permit the people to study and then to vote upon a question of such grave importance to the welfare of a free people as the question we are submitting to them I want to say to you gentlemen that fear of the people has made the monarchies of the old world tremble for a thousand years, but such fears have no place in a republic where people have the right to rule

For six months we have been telling the people of Nebraska in the best way possible how the political and publicity handicaps that have defied us that seventeen men in our senate have the power to defeat the will of the balance of the members of the legislature and of the million people of this free state I defy any man to disprove this statement In the last session of our legislature by a 99 to 1 vote the house passed a bill repealing our iniquitous intangible tax law The bill was sent to the senate and referred to the revenue committee and these seventeen men had the power and did smother the bill and the senate had no power to force the measure from the committee because seventeen men had been given the power to control the actions of the senate and they simply exercised the power given Such power is dangerous in a republic It must be destroyed There is only one way to destroy it and that way is through a single house legislature They tell us that we need a senate to keep a check on the house but I want to tell you that while they are the guardians of the "interests' they will check measures in the interests of the people for defeat and those in the interests of those special interests for passage

Gentlemen you are wasting your breath and disappointing the people when you talk of tax reduction while you permit this power to continue unchallenged

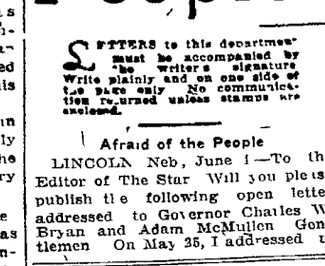

This same influence has put $600 000 000 of real estate mortgages on the tax free list It has provided for the exemption of $100,000,000 of tax free municipal securities It has fastened the exemption of $1 500,000 000 of intangible property upon the people, and through an unjust system of assessment it permits today more than a billion dollars of property to hide from the assessor without the power to protect the people through any law that has been written Half of the property in Nebraska is either never assessed for taxation or is exempted from taxation by law If this is true with that half assessed we can divide every man's tax by two if he owns no intangible property

Gentlemen, what Nebraska sorely needs is a revenue law that will compel the assessment of every dollar of property in Nebraska at its value whether it is tangible or intangible, visible or invisible or belongs to a rich man or a poor man If such a law cannot be written I suggest that we protect our pride for honesty by hanging a blanket over the words 'Equality before the law" on the cornerstone of our capital until such a law can be passed and the great seal of our state will give us a promise that its splendid meaning can be realized by the people Gentlemen partisan political lawmaking does not reflect the Christian spirit of Nebraska citizenship It furnishes a bad environment for our boys and girls who are to be the citizens of the next generation We are furnishing then no schools in which the ideals of a Christian democracy are taught Though what we are pleased to call "Practical politics' they are learning their political ethics in the environment of such national scandals as our 'Tea Pot Dome' of the last few months In a thousand ways in the name of partisan politics we are corrupting the very foundations of our republic

Victor Hugo once said 'There is only one thing that is mightier than armies and that thing is an idea whose time has come Victor Hugo's idea whose time has come is here It is crying out to Nebraska, 'We must get partisan politics out of lawmaking' It is crying out to our churches 'You have converted the world to the doctrines of the Christ and now you must help us to Christian politics, and business and so apply these doctrines to the solution of the complex problems of the world as to wipe out the injustice that today is standing in the way of making and owning homes for all the people

Gentlemen do you believe in these doctrines Are they now to you If they are new to you I want to cry out to you that no government can rise above the intelligence and Christian honesty of its electorate We may not be able to cleanse this generation from partisan political prejudice but we owe it to ourselves that we give our boys and girls a better environment in which their political ethics may be entrenched

Respectfully yours,
OTTO MUTZ

In making rubber or gasoline it's BALANCE that COUNTS

Sulphur, zinc, lead and other ingredients compounded with raw, gum rubber determine a tire's wearing qualities In gasoline, properly balanced proportions of low and higher boiling point fractions govern its worth as motor fuel.

RED CROWN is made by the most modern and accurate processes of refining, to rigid specifications which insure uniform gasoline perfectly suited to modern motors.

It contains an abundance of low boiling point fractions to assure quick starts, and plenty of higher boiling point fractions for power to the end of the stroke and big mileage per gallon.

So well balanced is Red Crown that altering it in any way gives a less thoroughly satisfactory year-around fuel.

To get the most out of your car, drive up to any Red Crown Service Station. You will be promptly and courteously served with full measure of balanced gasoline which will operate your motor on a lean, clean-burning economical mixture. Buy Polarine motor oil there and give your motor protective lubrication.

State Engineer Agrees to Make Decision Within a Week.

OMAHA, Neb., June 5.—State Engineer R. L. Cochran Wednesday morning refused to decide the question of where the Platte river bridge shall be built, though all the commissioners of both Douglas and Saunders counties and representatives of business houses asked him to do so at a meeting in the courthouse here.

Cochran, who presided, said he had had no answer from the Douglas county commissionetrs to a formal letter he sent to commissioners of both counties.

"If they reply to the letter now, wouldn't that answer the purpose?" asked W. A. Ellis, assistant commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce.

"We solemnly ask that the location of the bridge, whether at Center street or Q street, be made today, and preliminary steps for constructing the bridge be taken," said Harry Zimman. "We don't believe the state engineer will adopt the tactics that mark the diplomats of Europe."

"I don't know how the state engineer will cast the deciding vote for this bridge, and I don't care. I want a bridge," said Commissioner Unitt.

Cochran indicated that if the letter were written at once he would cast the deciding vote. The meeting was adjourned for 15 minutes and the commissioners wrote and signed a letter and it was read.

Then the state engineer announced that he wasn't ready to vote.

The vote of each county on the location of the bridge was cast weeks ago, Douglas county choosing the Q street site; Saunders county the Center street. The deciding vote must be cast by the state.

"The department of public works will carefully consider the votes of each county and will let you know where the bridge shall be built," Cochran announced.

"I hope there will be no undue further delay in locating this bridge," said Commissioner Unitt, "as I want it built in my term and I have only six more months in office."

"May we hope for this decision within a week?" asked Zimman.

The state engineer nodded his head.

Cumings Jailed On Check Charge

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., June 5.— John Cummings, alias Ralph McDonald, entered a plea of guilty yesterday in Judge Ellis' court to the charge of passing no-fund checks in this city last February, but pleaded not guilty to the charge of depositing a check for $70 at a local bank, drawn on a Plattsmouth concern, with intent to defraud. On the first count he was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail, but on the second he was bound over to the district court. In default of bond he was remanded to jail.

Hold Election On Dyke Construction

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., June 5.—Vote on the proposition of constructing a dyke that will protect the Ames and North Bend vicinities from floods from the Platte river has been scheduled for Monday.

The votes are to be cast at the office of the county clerk in Fremont.

Construction of a dyke ten years ago has effectively stopped the periodical flooding of the south part of Fremont. It is proposed to protect Ames and North Bend in the same way, if the election is favorable to the project.

Dentist Fails to Collect Bill From A Former Soldier

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., June 5. — Because Dr. H. D. Muir, a dentist, had advertised that he did governmental dentist work for ex-soldiers without cost to the patient, he was unable to collect a dental bill from Jess Hawley, in the sum of $58. Hawley had the work done on the strength of Muir's advertisement, he said, and was not to blame because Muir was unable to collect for it. Hawley showed that he is an ex-service man. The case attracted a large crowd, which was taken to the district court room for convenience. The jury found for the defendant.

Pawnee People In Quest Of Improved Depot Facilities

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., June 5—Five officials of the Burlington made a special trip to Pawnee City to go over the matter of a new freight and passenger station for the town. They were E. Flynn, general manager; A. Coatsworth, jr., general passenger agent; E. M. Westervelt, land agent; W. F. Giles, superintendent of the Wymore division, and F. L. Lewis, division freight agent.

They were shown the conditions at the station, the needs for suitable room for freight, and the need of more up to date waiting rooms with modern conveniences. The condition of the approach to the station, when muddy, was also demonstrated.

The officials took the matter under advisement and from statements that were made, local business men feel sure that they will act favorably regarding the matter.

Dairyman Injured By Angry Animal

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., June 5—Clarence Williamson, part owner of the Williamson dairy farm of this city, was badly bruised, when a two-year old purebred bull turned on him as he was trying to get the animal into the barn. Mr. Williamson was thrown to the ground and the animal was trying to crush him, when his father came to the rescue and the two of them got to safety. He was forced to remain in bed for a time but there were no serious injuries, resulting.

CLARKS RESIDENT TAKES OWN LIFE

Ill Health Causes Two to Shoot Selves On the Same Day.

COLUMBUS, Neb., June 5.—A. M. Johnson, 55, Clarks, Neb., committed suicide by firing a bullet from a revolver into his brain at the Union Pacific roundhouse at Genoa, Neb., Wednesday. Despondency caused by ill health is believed to be the cause.

Johnson had been advised to seek outdoor employment. Accordingly he had made arrangements to work for George C. Anderson, Platte county.

He reached Genoa Wednesday forenoon and put his car in a garage. He then went to the roundhouse, found a secluded spot and sent a bullet crashing into his brain. Death was instantaneous. He left a note in his clothes saying to notify George C Anderson, a relative of his.

Johnson's wife at Clarks, Neb., has been notified of his death. Johnson was for years employed on a Union Pacific bridge gang at Havens and Clarks.

Despondent because of ill health, Cecil Mustard, 33, living two or three miles north of Clarks, shot himself in an attempt at suicide.

Mustard had been in poor health for a number of years and had but recently returned to his home at Clarks after treatment at the hispital in Grand Island. He was married.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 5.—J. N. Green, 74, and Mrs. Ada Coleman, 65, old residents of Wymore, went to Marysville, Kas., where they were united in marriage by Rev. W. G. Rumphrey. They will make their home at Wymore.

Fine Fruit Crop Now In Prospect

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., June 5.—Prospects were never brighter for a big fruit crop in Gage county than at present. Cherries will make the heaviest yield with pears and plums a close second. The apple crop will also be fairly good, but peaches and apricots were killed out by the cold weather during the winter.

BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS.

DAVID CITY, Neb., June 5.—A Bible class sponsored by the churches of this city opened last Monday at the Methodist church. The class is under the direction of Miss Alice Nichols. After the Wednesday session 110 were enrolled, the membership consisting of children under fourteen years of age. Miss Nichols is assisted by five other young ladies.

You Can't Get Away

from the fact that every year you pay out your good money for rent, you are pouring it down a rat hole, without any chance of getting it back.

The same money applied to building a home of your own, would pay for it in a few years. Then you'd have something you could call your own and on which you could sell and realize on, if necessary. Can you sell your rent receipts?

Another thing you can't get away from, and that is RIGHT NOW is a good time to start building that home of your own. Rents will be high for several years yet, due to the house shortage all over the land.

We'll be glad to show you some attractive house plans, and quote you prices on the material to put them up.

Use Lemons to Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also to soothe red, rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Advertisement.

Boyce-ite

poured into your favorite gasoline creates the only fuel fit for your motor

IF I could talk to you, face to face, for just a few moments, you would become as enthusiastic about concentrated Boyce-ite as I am.

I have used concentrated Boyce-ite in gasoline for three years. At home, in my garage, I keep five cars that are used continuously. Carbon has never been removed from any of these cars, valves ground or a spark plug cleaned, and today they are all running better than when new. One car has gone twenty-six thousand miles and averages fourteen miles to the gallon of gasoline—although the manufacturers claimed a maximum twelve.

That has been my experience with concentrated Boyce-ite.

I have in my office hundreds of testimonial letters; one from the General Manager of the Checker Cab Company—the largest operators of taxicabs in New York. He states, that since using concentrated Boyce-ite in their gasoline, mileage has increased 20% and carbon troubles that formerly cost them thousands of dollars annually, are now a thing of the past.

Car distributors in New York, such as Marmon, Oldsmobile, Stutz, Chandler, etc., have written me stating they have used concentrated Boyce-ite, have obtained unbelievable results and are recommending it to all car owners.

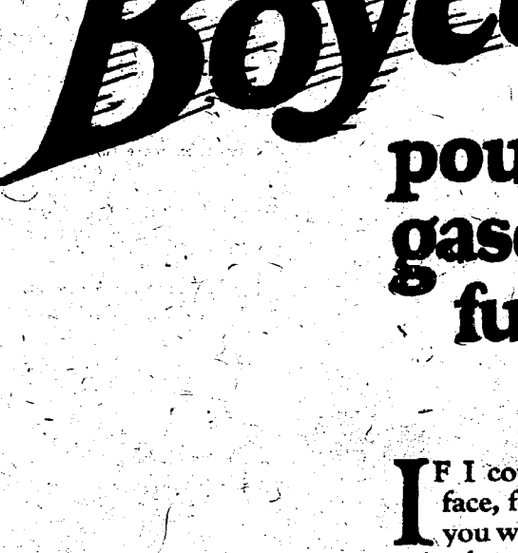

Now, what does this evidence mean? Just this—concentrated Boyce-ite is the greatest fuel ingredient the industry has ever known.

Poured into gasoline, concentrated Boyce-ite creates a perfect fuel—a fuel that forms no carbon, increases power, removes the knock, and is cheaper than plain gasoline because it increases mileage of every gallon of gasoline you use.

I have never known a car owner who has used concentrated Boyce-ite for one thousand miles who did not become wildly enthusiastic. When concentrated Boyce-ite fails—and it does occasionally—it is only because too little has been used. The test was incomplete.

All I ask is that you start to use concentrated Boyce-ite, now. Use it whenever you buy gasoline. Test it for one thousand miles of car operation. Keep a mental record of the increased power before and after using, and a written record of the gasoline saved. After this test you will be as enthusiastic as I am, and from then on you will, like all other experienced motorists, form the habit of using concentrated Boyce-ite every time you buy gasoline.

ONE OF THE COMPLETE LINE OF LEE TIRES

LEE Balloons

The Perfected Balloon Cord Tires

Lee makes no claim to be the originator of the Balloon Tire. But, during the period of early experimentation, Lee Engineers have been close and constant observers of the many new problems involved in the production of this type of casing. Each innovation brought forward has been carefully tested (on Lee test cars, not on those belonging to Lee customers), and, if proved of value, perfected and adapted to the Lee Balloon.

The result—a perfected balloon tire, incorporating every element known to date which would make for greater comfort, safety, wear and economy. A tire out of the experimental stage.

The small units of the Lee tread combine thick rubber for wear, with extreme flexibility for comfort.

We Supply Both Wheels and Tires

We are now equipped to render you complete service on balloon tires. We have stocked a full line of LEE Service (small diameter) Wheels, or we can fit balloons to your present wheels if you prefer. Come in and talk it over. Or send for free booklet giving the whole story of balloon tires.

Mrs. M. M. Levings of Omaha—driving contest.

Mrs. Fred Draper of Beatrice—blind bogey.

PRENUPTIAL AFFAIRS FOR BRIDE-TO-BE.

Miss Nelda Gall, whose marriage to Folmer Rank will be an event of next Saturday, was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower, which was given last evening by Mr. Rank's mother, Mrs. Fred Rank, 2412 A street, with Mrs. Philip Staberg and Mrs. C. W. Howard assisting hostesses. A color motif of pink and white was used in the decorations and in the appointments of the three course supper which was served the latter part of the evening. Pink peonies in crystal bowls centered the three supper tables. At the close of the supper, little Donald Staberg, Mr. Rank's nephew, appeared hauling an express wagon, attractively decorated in pink, which held the gifts for the bride-to-be. Dancing, music, writing advice to the bride and groom and telling their future were the amusements of the evening. Mrs. George Jensen of Fort Dodge, Ia., was an out of town guest. This evening, Miss Gall, Mr. Rank and Mrs. Jensen will share honors at an informal party for which Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlain of Havelock will be host and hostess.

The marriage of Miss Gall and Mr. Rank will take place Saturday evening at Our Savior Lutheran church and a reception will follow at the home of Miss Gall, 240 South Twenty-eighth street.

Hastings In Need Of Buildings For Its School System

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., June 5.—Three thousand persons attended the commencement exercises of the two Hastings high schools which were held at the municipal auditorium Henry Schlitt was valedictorian and was awarded the scholarship, which entitles him to a $100 credit on tuition at any one of the Nebraska colleges.

Neil Heikes delivered a strong address as salutatorian There were 125 graduates from the senior high and 189 from the junior high school.

Seventy-five per cent of the senior high graduates started their work together six years ago when they entered the first grade of the junior high school

At the close of the exercises, Superintendent A H. Staley told of the great need for a definite building program for the city's schools here.

The two high schools, which were built to house about 600 pupils are now used by almost 1,200, he declared. Seven rooms outside of regular school buildings are being pressed into service as class rooms and two basement rooms in the ward buildings have had to be turned into "home" rooms for some of the younger children.

Teeth Stained for Years--Now Clear White!

Friend Showed Him Easy Way to Remove Tobacco Stains.

"For years I have been greatly annoyed with tobacco stains on my teeth Every paste and cleanser on the market was tried without success. Being a salesman, soiled teeth also proved a great handicap Then one day a friend told me about Bleachodent Combination, the new tooth whitener, in liquid and paste form.

"After going through a considerable period of doubt I finally purchased a package. My delight with the results secured has been so great that I feel obligated to write and congratulate you on the product. My mouth and teeth feel as clean as they look, and I take great personal interest in telling my friends about Bleachodent." The above is not an exceptional case. For thousands are securing equally surprising results from Bleachodent Combination—the new, safe tooth whitener. Consists of a mild, harmless liquid and a special kind of paste The liquid instantly curdles and softens surface stains so that they can be quickly removed with the paste. No effect on enamel Get Bleachodent Combination today. Costs only a few cents at all good druggists.—Advertisement.

'Death Ray' Not Nearly So Deadly As Finder Claims

LONDON, June 5.—The "deadly power of the death ray" failed to materialize in recent governmental tests, the house of commons was told last evening by William Leach, under secretary of the air ministry.

During the tests, he said, one of the minister's experts placed himself in the path of the ray only ten yards distant from the point of emanation. If the inventor's claim had been borne out the expert ought to have disappeared, but the under-secretary was pleased to report that he was doing very nicely and when last seen showed no sign of having suffered.

BURGLARS ARE AGAIN ACTIVE

Jewelry and Money Taken From Homes and Rugs From Warehouse.

Three burglaries were reported Thursday morning to police.

The home of Rev. A. Matzner, 1314 F street, was entered Wednesday evening between 8:30 and 9:45 while the family was gone, and two gold watches and a bill folder containing three or four dollars taken. A side window was opened to enter the house.

The warehouse of the Western Furniture and Manufacturing company at 335 South Seventh street, was entered and seven rugs stolen. The rugs are valued at about $200, according to Detective N. F. Schneible, who made an investigation. A window in the office was left unlocked, Detective Schneible said

At the home of M Mays Penton, 1915 U street, a pocketbook was stolen. It contained only a small amount of change, according to police. The front door of the house was left unlocked the report stated.

Franks Boy, Kidnapers' Victim, Opposed To Capital Punishment

CHICAGO, June 5.—A little grave holds the body of murdered Robert Franks, who just two weeks before his death expounded and proved to the satisfaction of judges in the Harvard school, his belief that a slayer should not be deprived of life by man

"Only God is permitted to take human life," he said, and when the affirmative side of the debated question brought forth the Mosaic law of "an eye for an eye," he retorted with winning effect that punishment should be reformative, never vindicative.

The two boys, who have confessed they slew Robert Franks, occupy prison cells. They face capital punishment, the vengeance of man for their destruction of the life of the little child, who pleaded so passionately for abolition of that means of punishment.

Robert Franks' mother heard her boy—her baby, she still calls him, although he was 13 when he was murdered—tell his schoolmates and instructors he could not agree with capital punishment, and after his side had been victorious in its contention, she told friends she had favored Robert's idea, although his older brother, Jack, was a member of the side which expounded the affirmative. Now Robert's mother, stricken with grief, lies in her room.

Physicians Apprehensive.

Physicians have expressed fear that she will not recover her health. They say her tottering reason may crash.

Friends of the Franks family who knew of the debate now are asking:

"What would Robert say now if one of his little friends had ben the victim and he were alive? Would he plead for leniency for the slayers? What does his mother believe now? Does she still think Robert right?"

There is no doubt as to the feelings of Jacob Franks in the matter. The grief-bowed father of the slain boy declared today without emotion that he could pull the trap on the gallows to hang his son's murderers without any twinge of feeling.

"I feel no burning resentment against them," he said, "but they should pay the penalty. I feel sorry for their families, but society is not safe while they are at large. My duty is to other parents with sons."

AMERICA IS LAND OF MAKE BELIEVE AUTHOR ASSERTS

Israel Zangwill Convinced U. S. Has More Cranks Than Any Other.

LONDON, June 5.—Israel Zangwill, noted Jewish author, who is back in England following his second visit to America in fifteen years, gives the following impressions of his lengthy stay there:

"There is a relaxation in the fibre of the people and les efficiency," said Zangwill, "probably due to prosperity and the restricted immigration, which results in a lack of competition.

"There is a high standard of living and very little unemployment, but prices are very high

"I found the American people very amiable and loveable, and there is a great deal of brotherhood and fraternity.

"There are a large number of people who are unable to find political or cultural expression, and are swamped by majorities.

"When clothed in white sheets and masks the Ku Klux Klan seemed sinister and significant, but when clothed in argument they were naked.

"There are more cranks to the square mile in America than in the rest of the world put together.

"New York is the slowest city in the world. Everyone buys automobiles until the traffic is too congested for any movement whatever.

"America is a land of make-believe. Talk of hard headed American business men in all mythology. They are victimized by any advocate of a new food, new exercises, new sandals and new creeds.

"America, the land of the free, is swamped with politicians, many of them professional swindlers. These people play down to the masses instead of making public opinion."

Zangwill found two things in America that he can heartily approve of—the drama and the taxi-drivers.

Golfing Wizards Tee Off At Detroit In Play for Open Crown

CLASH OF EXPERTS IN NATIONAL OPEN

America's Golf Crown Prize At Stake In Tourney On Michigan Links.

Bobby Jones, Present Premier, and Walt Hagen Favorites With the Gallery.

LOOS SETTING PACE.

OAKLAND HILLS CLUB, DETROIT, Mich., June 5.—Eddie Loos was low man with a score of 34 for the first nine holes of the contenders in the national open golf tourney who teed off early this morning. Chick Evans turned the first nine in 35, ranking next to Loos. Bobby Jones, present champion, was one of the late starters. The early cards:

BY ROBERT E. HARLOW.

OAKLAND HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, Mich., June 5.—Bobby Jones, Atlanta amateur, was called upon today to defend his title as open golf champion when three other amateurs and eighty-one professionals started in the one big golfing showdown of the year—the open championship—which is being contested over the long and tricky course of the Oakland Hills Country club.

The contestants are the pick of two qualifying fields which last week engaged in elimination tests at Worcester, Mass., and Chicago.

If is better than even money that the winner of this event, be he a professional, will travel many thousands of miles, engage in a great many exhibition matches and collect about $25,000 in cash before the boys meet again in 1925.

Perfect Golf Weather.

Weather conditions were perfect for good golf, but even so it was estimated that the player who got around in 148 today would be leading the field at the end of the first thirty-six holes—the half-way post in the journey for the coveted title.

This will be a Bobby Jones tournament as far as the galleries are concerned. The fact has been already demonstrated in the practice rounds. Golfing crowds seem to prefer the amateur to the professional in the open championships these days. The professionals, having seen the title slip away last year into the possession of an amateur, are out for revenge.

Jones and Hagen Favorites.

Jones, however, ruled an equal favorite with Walter Hagen, at 5 to 1 against, when play started. There was talk of 12 to 1 against these favorites, but that was only talk.

Jones in six practice rounds here has ranged from 74 to 77; good enough to convince all that he will make a strong effort to turn back the professional tide. Last year, O. B. Keeler, Atlanta writer, who keeps a watchful eye on Jones, announced that the southern beauty had done some of his training on Cicero's orations, and this year Keeler informed friends that Jones was keeping his mind off golf by solving the intricate problems which developed during the chess masters' tournament in New York some weeks ago.

Hagen Hard to Beat.

Gene Sarazen astounded the enthusiasts when he appeared in the latest things in trousers: those things which are so wide about the ankle and look like a sailor's traps.

Hagen has been quiet for a number of days. He is taking this matter very seriously. He is carrying around on his face one of his best and darkest competitive masks. He will be hard to beat, over this course, where he held forth as professional for two years.

Joe Kirkwood, Johnny Farrell, MacDonald Smith, Jock Hutchison, Chick Evans, Jesse Guilford, Bill Mehlhorn are among the names mentioned as possible winners.

Freigau Has Big Day; Cardinals Defeat Phillies

(Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—St. Louis pounded five Philadelphia pitchers yesterday for a total of nineteen hits and defeated the Phils, 12 to 5. Freigau, Cardinal infielder, played a sensational game. He gathered four hits, one a double, in five times at bat and stole four bases. Score by innings: R. H. E.

Wills To Get First Whirl At Wild Bull

BUENOS AIRES, June 5.—Luis Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, announced here today that August 23 had been agreed upon for his bout with Harry Wills in the United States.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Tex Rickard, promoter, said today that inability to sign Firpo for a match with Willis before August 20 precluded the possibility of arranging a championship contest for the winner with Jack Dempsey.

Lincoln In Receptive Mood.

How far Josh Clarke and his associates are willing to go in their desire to acquire the Lincoln club and franchise must continue to be a mystery until Brother Josh hits into Lincoln next Sunday. Should said desire be fortified with a respectable portion of the long green, thereby demonstrating good faith and confidence in the town, then Lincoln undoubtedly will warm up to the proposition and Western league baseball in the capital city of Nebraska could easily be established on the plane that the fans and boosters anticipated when they came clean with the league in putting over the park drive last winter.

Lincoln had no fair chance to show its real stuff as a ball town under the Wakefield regime. The Chicago man brought a tailend club to town, one which had won but one game in eleven starts on the first road trip, and was given a more enthusiastic response than he had right or reason to expect. While the most distressing baseball weather in many years detracted appreciably from the attendance, Lincoln did immensely well at the box office and every magnate, other than Wakefield, in the league praised Lincoln for its showing.

Wakefield League's Mistake.

Wakefield left certain obligations which will have to be cleared up before the local situation can be declared strictly Jacob. The chief debt involves a $3,000 balance on the grandstand extension at Landis Field. But Wakefield's obligations are details which the league should handle. The league picked Wakefield, while turning down desirable propositions from other sources, and the league has responsibilities which Lincoln should not be asked to assume. Under certain conditions, Lincoln might be willing to co-operate with Clarke and the league in ironing out the extension debt tangle, but if any hat-passing is suggested, it is safe to assume that Lincoln will declare itself out.

Directors of the park association already have gone on record as opposed to a drive for funds of any sort. They take the position that Lincoln did its bit last winter and that the league, although meaning well in selecting Wakefield, did not. League President Tearney possibly may have a different conception of the situation, but if the head of the circuit is expecting that Lincoln, when the pinch arrives, will come across with another drive, it may as well be stated in advance that disappointment will be his portion.

Park association directors will be summoned to meet in advance of Josh Clarke's arrival, possibly getting together Friday night for a definite declaration of Lincoln's policy in the approaching negotiations. The directors, representing approximately 180 subscribers to the park-owning corporation, will not be stampeded into accepting or approving any plan which the league may propose. Lincoln fans, of course, are anxious that Western league ball may be made permanent in this city, but there is a limit and beyond that Lincoln will not step.

Transfer Talk Is Chatter.

The writer's conception of the situation is that the league needs Lincoln more than Lincoln needs the league. Talk of a transfer of the franchise to some other city is chiefly idle chatter. The map of the middle west is not dotted by any vacant territory that will compare with Lincoln from the standpoint of ability to keep the turnstiles clicking. Should the league officials wish to go elsewhere with their ball club, that will be their privilege, but in going they might find it an expensive move.

The smart plan for the league is to admit that the choice of Wakefield and the turning down of other desirable bidders was a mistake which the league must rectify. Should it come to that, with Josh Clarke and his associates stepping in as owners of the club, Lincoln still is ready, even anxious, to demonstrate that it has the goods to go the pace in the Western circuit.

Henry Does a Finnegan.

Jess Henry, doing a Finnegan, is back on the payroll of the Links. The ex-Iowa semi-pro pastimer filled in at the left garden in Wednesday's argument with the Indians at Oklahoma City, accepting two fielding chances and nicking Pitcher Brown for one of the two safe knocks credited to his team. Outfielder Purcell, with the Links the past three weeks, was released before the club pulled away from Omaha and Henry is to hold down the left garden position until the long missing O'Connor gets into uniform or a seasoned outfielder can be acquired.

Red Sox Pass Yankees.

Tailenders last season, the Boston Red Sox lead the American league today, after a sustained drive of 20 victories in 27 games. Manager Lee Fohl, who piloted the Browns to fourth place in the league race last season, accomplished the transformation after Boone, Veach, Wambsganss, O'Neill and Lee were added to the personnel of the 1923 cellar team.

The challengers passed the world's champions yesterday by beating St. Louis, 6 to 5, as the White Sox defeated the Yankees, 4 to 3.

Detroit followed Boston in the revolt against the champions by winning from Washington, 6 to 5. As a result, New York is only one-half game away from third place.

Athletics Out of Cellar.

Coincident with the elevation of Boston, the Athletics, at one time considered to have a permanent lien on the 1924 cellar position, climbed out by defeating Cleveland, 6 to 5, which dropped the Indians into the vacated place.

Rain deluged the east at game time yesterday and only one contest was played in the National league. St. Louis evened the series with Philadelphia by slugging five pitchers and winning, 12 to 5.

"Bullet Joe" Bush, veteran of many pitching duels and with a record of five consecutive victories this season, bowed to a rookie, Ted Lyons from Texas, as the Yanks' flag went down.

(Special to The Star.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 5—Brilliant pitching by Joe Brown featured the Indians' defeat of Lincoln yesterday, 5 to 0, in the opening game of the Links' southern trip.

The visitors gleaned only two singles from Brown's puzzling slants. Henry's short fly just over the infield accounted for one blow, while Caffey's speed in beating out a bouncer to McNally netted the second hit. Brown whiffed six Lincoln batters and was master of the situation in every inning.

Error Costs Three Runs.

Gunther's error in the first frame in which he mussed up a ground ball that should have been the third out, opened the gate to the Indians, who drove through to three unearned runs and a comfortable lead. The Indians peeled off an earned marker in the fourth and repeated in the fifth. Rasmussen pitched steadily and effectively in every other inning.

Praull pitched the eighth inning for the Links, superseding Rasmussen after Grover had gone in as pinch-hitter for the Lincoln pitcher.

Although the Links committed three errors, the fielding of the visitors at times was brilliant, the infield executing three double plays. The score:

U. S. Golf Association Rules Govern Play In State Tournament.

The Nebraska state golf tournament, which will get under way at the Lincoln Country club next Monday, will be played under rules of the U. S. Golf association.

Merle C. Rathburn, secretary of the state association, in announcing Thursday the U. S. Golf association regulations would govern the play called attention to the rule prohibiting the use of corrugated clubs.

During the tournament the caddy fee will be increased to one dollar for the eighteen holes, which probably will mean a bumper outpouring of youngsters.

The membership of the Nebraska Golf association reached thirty-four Thursday when the Lakoma club of Omaha enrolled in the organization.

Champions From Norfolk.

(Special to The Star.)

NORFOLK, Neb., June 5. — Five district and local champions will journey from Norfolk to Lincoln for the state golf tournament next week.

L. L. Nelson, former champion of northeast Nebraska and member of the championship flight in the 1923 state tournament, will head the list of Norfolk players. Others are B. W. Beeler, present northeast champion; A. W. Breyer, former local champion; George Christoph and D. T. McKinnon, former district champions.

Gopher U. Bids For Services of Nebraska Coach

The University of Minnesota is angling for the services of Henry F. Schulte, head track coach at the University of Nebraska.

Although Schulte was not disposed to discuss the Minnesota offer at any great length Thursday morning, it is understood that the Minnesota offer includes a substantial increase in salary, his work to include the head coachship of track in addition to assistance during the football season and membership on the faculty of a summer coaching school.

"I like it at Nebraska and my work here has been very pleasant, both at the university and with the high schools of the state. The Minnesota offer is a tempting one and I have not yet fully decided what I will do," Schulte said Thursday.

The loss of Schulte, should it come to that, would be greatly felt at Nebraska U. and by high schools of the state. He has not only brought to Nebraska four successive Missouri Valley track championships but has assisted in other lines of sports in addition to finding time to organize and promote better athletic conditions among Nebraska high schools.

His interscholastic track numeral roll and pentathlon has made interest in track grow by leaps and bounds, while his officials' schools, conducted over the state, have made for cleaner and better high school and intercollegiate athletics.

CUT IN RANKS OF AMERICA'S TEAM

Olympic Committee Forced To Reduce Size of Squad Sent To Paris Games.

Sport Public Penurious and Donations Fall $150,000 Short of Mark.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 5.— Barring a sudden financial windfall, indications were today that the American Olympic team will be sent abroad to the great tournament of nations at Paris next month in the condition of a toe dancer with a fallen arch. The much-abused guest without a wedding garment was in less embarrassing position than is the Olympic committee at present. Having instituted a drive for $150,000 and been tacitly snubbed by the American public, the committee faces the disagreeable business of wholesale retrenchment in its plans to send a representative team to Paris.

This will be attempted at a special meeting next Sunday and, at its conclusion, the probability is that the American Olympic team will be only a bleached, sun-cured skeleton of its original form. It has become necessary to cut every group of competitors—track and field, swimming, boxing, wrestling, fencing, etc.— to the very bone. Present plans call for wholesale revisions along these lines:

Squads Must Be Reduced.

Reduction of the boxing squad from twenty to sixteen men; of the wrestling team from twenty-one to fourteen men; the dropping of at least two men from the fencing squad and the complete elimination of the water polo team from further consideration.

Just which events will be affected by this decision is not known at this time, but it is said that as many as one-third of those on the program will not see a complete American entry.

As matters stand, it is hardly likely that more than 275 competitors will be taken abroad the good ship America when it sails for abroad. The original prospectus called for a squad ranging between 350 and 400, but it also called for a fund of $350,000.

Committee Short $150,000.

The committee has raised something like $200,000 and realizes that in the eleven days before sailing it has the chance of a web-footed antelope of getting anywhere in particular. It is already on the "nut" a matter of $160,000 for the charter of the steamer.

The eastern tryouts at the Yankee stadium next Sunday will net a few extra thousands. The final tryouts at Boston may add about $10,000. The rest of the fund will run for the end book, unless the public turns philanthropic and it is our understanding that the last survival of American philanthropy dropped dead on his way to the bank with a deposit book.

Gotham Czars Still In Way Of Wills Bout

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Harry Wills-Bartley Madden heavyweight encounter, blocked for a variety of reasons here and in Newark since last February, may not be held, as planned, next Monday night at the Queensboro stadium, despite the 30-day permit granted the arena by the board of standards and appeals in reversing the fire department's condemnation order.

George E. Brower, chairman of the state athletic commission, said today no license would be granted until the fire department endorsed the arena permit.

Members of the board of standards and appeals insisted such endorsement was not necessary.

McTigue Matched With Stribling.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Paddy Mullens, manager of Mike McTigue, light-heavyweight boxing champion of the world, has confirmed announcement by McTigue at Saratoga Springs, that the champion had accepted an offer of $100,000 to meet Young Stribling under the promotion of Barry McCormick of Kansas City, Kan.

In reference to a dispatch from Tulsa, which stated that boxing was prohibited there, Mullens stated that he was not certain where McCormick intended to stage the fight, although he understood that it was to be held about September 6. Arrangements for the bout had been discussed on a recent visit of McCormick to New York, Mullens said.

BOSTON—Jock Malone, St. Paul middleweight, and Frank Moody of Wales, have been matched for a ten-round bout in this city June 13, under the promotion of the Suffolk Athletic club.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON

Winner of 31 Golf Championships. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans

Every good golfer does two things—he shifts his weight at the beginning of the back swing and he keeps his left wrist from "flopping" under the shaft at the top of the back swing. Accomplish these two things and your scores will drop amazingly.

In starting the club back hold left arm lightly close to the body from the shoulder to a point near the elbow. Then, as you start the club upward keep the right arm, from the shoulder to a point near the right elbow, lightly close to the body. As the club nets near the top of the back swing see to it that your right hand is turned completely under the shaft, with the palm turned straight up. The elbow at this time may be slightly away from the body—never pull it in back of the body. Instead, let it go on up with the club when the point is reached where it has a natural tendency to go up higher. Have the left wrist straight in line with your forearm. Now twist your shoulders back and forth and observe the pull you get against your left wrist. That pull is what puts zip into the clubhead—spring. Keep that left wrist from going under.

THE ? BOX

Q: Your solution of a baseball problem submitted by a Bladen, Neb., reader precipitated an argument. Here is the play: Bases full, with nobody out. Batter hit a low drive to shortstop. Runner at second feared shortstop would catch the ball on the fly and he retreated to second. Shortstop trapped the ball on a short bounce and ran to second. He touched the bag and then touched the runner at that base when the latter was standing on the sack. Shortstop then threw to first, getting the ball there ahead of the batter. Runner at third crossed the plate. Was it a triple play and did the run count?—STAR READER, Lincoln.

A: Not a triple play; the run counted. Shortstop had a glittering chance for a triple killing, but he failed to make the play properly. He should have tagged the runner at second, then stepped on second and completed the play with a throw to first. Such a play would have made it a triple out and the run would not count. When the shortstop stepped on second, with the ball in his possession, he retired the runner at first on what is known as a "force." The moment the runner at first was out, the "force" was eliminated and the runner at second could not be tagged out when standing on that base. The play you describe was merely a double play; the runner at second was safe and the run scored.

Touching The Bases.

After knocking at the door for several days, the Red Sox jumped into the lead when they trimmed the Browns, 6 to 5, while the Yankees were losing to the White Sox.

Lyons chalked up his second victory over the Yankees and the White Sox shoved the Yankees into second place, winning, 4 to 3.

The Athletics shoved the Indians into the cellar, Burns' pitching in the last two innings being a master exhibition. Score, 6 to 5.

Fothergill, pinch-hitting for Dauss in the tenth, shot a single which scored the winning run for the Tigers over the Senators, 6 to 5.

Freigau had a field day while the Cardinals beat the Phillies, 15 to 5. He made four hits in five times at bat and stole four bases.

CLIMBING RED SOX AT PEAK OF PILE

Club Which Passed the Yanks Has Real Goods In All Departments.

Quinn and Fohl Prove Their Smartness by Building Up Powerful Team.

BY FRANK G. MENKE.

(Copyright 1924 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK, June 5.—Just why there should be mystification over the fact that the Boston Red Sox are frisking at the top of Mr. Ban Johnson's baseball league is a mystery in itself.

It needs not an ex-ray, nor a Lick telescope, nor anything but the naked orbs to discover the fact that the Sox embrace a really powerful baseball team at this hectic moment.

Quietly and unobtrusively, the team has been built up ever since Bobby Quinn and the crowd of Columbus magnates took charge. Without the blare of trumpets and without any ballyhooing, the Sox have acquired one good player and then another.

The climax achievement came through the trade with the Indians. In this deal, the Sox were transformed from a second division team to one which seems destined to carry on all through 1924 at or around the pinacle of the circuit.

Veach, Flagstead and Boone.

The game has known few hitters greater than Bobby Veach. It has known few who are better outfielders or more consistent with the mace than Ira Flagstead. And not in many seasons has a youngster been uncovered who can play the game so splendidly as Ike Boone.

This trio makes up the gardening department of the Red Sox, and it is a trio which normally will hit between .335 and .360, which is slugging to the nth degree.

At any time that a member of this trio isn't able to perform herculean deeds, one John Collins, ancient and venerable but still a great ball player, is there to fill the gap. All of which gives the Red Sox one of the best balanced outfields in the game today.

Infield Has Real Goods.

The infield of the Bostonians is a truly great collection. Joe Harris on first yields to few in ability afield. He is fast; he is a splendid thrower, and he can get baseballs that are thrown on either side of him, up in the air, or dig them out of the dirt. And Harris, with a clubbing average that has fluctuated between .360 and .400 since the seasog began, proves to the world that he is a hitter par excellence.

It was only a season ago when Bill Wambsganss was rated as one of the greatest second basemen in the game. He never hit for any phenomenal average, but had a splendid knack—and still has it—of hitting when hits mean runs. And in the matter of fielding, Wambsganss does not need to doff his cap to any man in the game. He is speedy, accurate and brilliant.

Youngsters Make Good.

The Sox have Lee, a whirlwind youngster at short, and Clarke another youngster at third. The two kids need seasoning, but already have shown that they are possessed of major league qualities to a great great extreme. Each new day witnesses a greater improvement in each and before midseason, the boys should be playing with all the steadiness and the confidence of veterans.

Back of the bat, the Sox have perhaps the greatest catcher in baseball today. That is Steve O'Neill, who for many years held down the job with the Indians. O'Neill needs little descriptive laudation. The world knows him as a great all-around individual who is possessed of the ability of transforming an ordinary pitcher into something akin to a world beater. At any time that O'Neill yearns to take a rest, the Sox have Picinich, to substitute for him and Picinich has been rated for several years as one of the outstanding catchers of baldom.

Ehmke Great Pitcher.

Shifting to the pitching department—

Howard Ehmke sizes up as one of the greatest hurlers in baldom of this era. Jack Quinn is old and weatherbeaten, but he is still a splendid performer and has added many victories to the Red Sox total this year. Ferguson, Percey and Fuhr make up the remainder of the Red Sox squad.

The trio of youngsters ordinarily might not be showing in spectacular fashion. But they are doing it and the reason seems to be Steve O'Neill. The brainy backstop has devoted every possible energy to the development of these men and the result has shown in each game in which each has performed.

Fuhr Comes Through.

Fuhr looks like a potential champion slabster. He has everything but experience, and is acquiring that rapidly. Ferguson is getting better with each new game, and by the time mid-season arrives, the added seasoning and the greater confidence should make him infinitely more effective than ever before.

Piercey has been bouncing around in the American league for a few years without showing much, other than promise. But this season, with O'Neill as his tutor, Bill is doing his stuff in brilliant fashion and finally seems to have arrived as an asset for the ball club.

So, all in all, the Sox size up not as a team which is playing over its head in the springtime, but as one which seems to fight it out to the finish for pennant honors unless some misfortune finds it and wrecks a really powerful ball team which Bobby Quinn and Lee Fohl welded together almost over night.

How It's Done in the Majors

By Frank Frisch, Captain New York Giants

Any inning. Score 6-2 in favor of team in the field. Team at bat has men on first and second with none out.

What play should the team in the field look for?

In a case of this kind the team at bat cannot afford to hunt to advance the runners, as they have to score a lot of runs in order to tie or win the game. Consequently, the infield should play back in order to make a double, but it must always make sure of one man. If the batsman does make a hit this team will still be three runs behind, so the thing to do is to play for the double.

NORMAN SLATER

Norman ("Babe") Slater was the captain of the American rugby football team that defeated the French players in the final match in the Olympic games, held in the Colombes stadium, near Paris. The American victory so infuriated French spectators that Americans were mobbed, and the police had to escort the players from the field to save them from bodily harm.

Tennis Dispute Goes Over Until Winter Session

NEW YORK, June 5.—The United States Lawn Tennis association will not call a special meeting to recontion of the amateur rule, as adopted at the February meeting of the association. This decision was made at a meeting of the executive committee last night.

A committee of two members of the amateur rule committee, two representatives opposed to the rule and three others chosen by these four was appointed to confer with members of the amateur rule committee and member clubs of the association with regard to the interpretation. This committee will report to the executive committee at its December meeting.

Sport Briefs

ATLANTA, Ga.—Frank Troeh, registered from Portland, Ore., and therefore ineligible in the southern zone shoot under way here on the Atlanta gun club range, yesterday broke 99 out of a possible 100 in the "McCarthy Hundred" and thereby tied the official world's record for double trapshooting. "McCarty's Hundred," unfinished when darkness overtook the competing gunmen, is composed of ten pair of doubles, twenty targets from a 16-yard rise, 20 from 18 yards, 20 from 20 yards, 20 from 22 yards, and a score from 23 yards.

Finals In Water Compet.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 5.—One hundred and twenty-five of the nation's greatest swimmers are entered in the final contests for places on the United States Olympic swimming team to be held here today. Three events are on the program, the 100-meter free style for men, 1,500 meters freestyle for men and men's diving contest.

Among some of the more prominent swimmers entered in the finhere are Johnny Weissmuller, Norman Ross, Duke Kahanamoku, Sam Kahanamoku and Harold Kreuger.

Choose Captains For Doane Tiger Squads

(Special to The Star)

CRETE, Neb., June 5.—Letter men of the basketball and track squads at DDoane college elected captains this week.

Gene Haylett is to lead the 1925 basketball team while C. J. Kubicek will head the 1925 track squad. Haylett is a freshman and played a guard position during the past season. He is a former Clay Center high school athlete. Kubicek has been a consistent point winner in the field events. He is a former Wilber high school performer.

Americans Increase Consumption of Milk

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Americans are consuming more milk than ever before. The department of agriculture announced Wednesday that the houschold consumption of milk was 211 quarts per person last year, compared with 200 quarts in 1922.

Consumption of butter was 17 pounds per capita, compared with 16½; of cheese 3.91 pounds compared with 3.72; of condensed and evaporated milk 13.25 pounds, compared with 12.69 and of ice cream 2.66 gallons, compared with 2.43 gallons.

Change Time of Class Breakfast

The breakfast for the honor of the '24 Roundup, the class of '04, will be at 3 o'clock Friday morning instead of at 9:30 as previously announced.

The class of '99 will hold a breakfast at the University club, at 8 o'clock Friday morning.

The class of '98 will hold its breakfast at the University club at 8:15 Saturday morning, instead of a luncheon Saturday noon as previously announced.

CONGESTION IN CONGRESS LESS

With Farm Relief Legislation Definitely abandoned, Situation Improves.

Solons Remain at Tasks, However, With Much To Be Done Before Saturday.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—With farm relief legislation along the lines of the defeated McNary-Haugen bill definitely abandoned by republican leaders in the house and the Muscle Shoals question put over until December 3 in the senate, the congestion in congress today had been considerably relieved.

Much remained to be done before adjournment Saturday night, however, with reclamation and naval modernization measures the principal items remaining on the program.

An omnibus pension bill similar to the one passed late yesterday, carrying about 200 proposals affecting veterans of various wars and dependents had right of way in the senate today, with the $150,000,000 bill designed to bring the navy up to the 5-5-3 ratio agreed upon by the Washington arms conference in second place.

Despite the decision of republican leaders to abandon efforts to put through a farm export measure, agricultural relief was before the house in the form of the Hoch resolution instructing the interstate commerce commission freight survey looking to a reduction in transportation charges on farm products.

SARINERS DECIDE ON LOS ANGELES

Mystic Shrine Votes To Hold 1925 Convention On West Coast.

(Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 5.—With the election of officers yesterday and disposition of other business, including the selection of its 1925 convention mecca, of the imperial council of the Shrine of North America, the 50,000 nobles of the order assembled here turned their attention last night to the picturesque "stunt" parade.

James E. Chandler of Kansas City became imperial potentate by action of the council where he was officially elevated, along with other members of the imperial divan in order of their succession.

John N. Sebrell of Khadiv temple, Norfolk, Va., was elected outer guard.

Los Angeles was selected as the 1925 caravansary, which will be held May 26-28.

Mr. Chandler succeeds Conrad V. Dykeman, Kismet temple, Brooklyn, N. Y., who now becomes a past imperial potentate and henceforth has a vote in the imperial council.

All but two of the officers ascended to higher offices. William S. Brown, Pittsburgh, imperial treasurer, and Benjamin W. Rowell, Boston, imperial recorder, were re-elected. They have held their offices by re-election since the Denver convention in 1804.

Cochran Not Ready To Make Decision In Bridge Dispute

Following the agreement of the Douglas and Saunders county boards at Omaha on Wednesday, to let State Engineer Cochran settle the dispute over the location of the Platte river state aid bridge to be constructe dat Yutan, telegrams were received Thursday by Governor Bryan from Waterloo and Elkhorn, two towns in Douglas county, strongly urging that the bridge be built on the north road to connect with the Center street highway leading into Omaha.

Mr. Cochran is not ready to announce any decision, nor will he do so before advising with Governor Bryan. Engineering feasibility and service to the public will be the chief factors in determining the question, the governor said.

Those favoring the north road call attention to the fact that it improved as a federal aid highway on both sides of the river, and that the Center street route is the one commonly used in approaching Omaha from the west.

The J. C. Robinson Seed Co. and the Waterloo Eveator Co. wired Mr. Bryan that the business interests there and 90 per cent of the farmers in the western part of Douglas county favor the Center street location as against that a mile south, connecting with Q street in South Omaha. A similar message came from the farmers' union at Elkhorn.

Board Approves $2,000,000 Worth Of New Securities

Approval has been given by the state railway commission to the issuance of new securities totalling $2,000,000 by the Cenertal Power Co., of Grand Island, in order to clean up old obligations and to pay for new construction work.

The securities include $1,600,000 of 20-year 6 per cent bonds, to be disposed of on a basis of 87 or better; $200,000 of common stock to be sold at 80, and $200,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock, which will presumably be floated at par.

The discount on the bonds is to be taken care of by amortizing the excess out of earninugs.

Suffers Nervous Attack—Friends of State Senator George Wilkins, secertary of the senate committee which investigated accounts and expenditures of the state highway department, have received word that he was suffering a nervous attack at his home in Emerson, due to the fact that he had to wrestle with so many figures in making up a report for the committee's consideration. In order to avoid a breakdown, the senator had to cease work for the time being. He is now improving and hopes to complete the report in the near future.

COOLIDGE URGES TRADING HONESTY

President Addresses Real Estate Men On South Lawn Of White House.

Declares America Now Recognized Everywhere As "Best Buy" In World.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The real estate men of the country were urged by President Coolidge in an address delivered today before the National Association of Real Estate boards to conduct their business with a view to mutuality of advantage to both buyer and seller.

"The real sin which one side sets the best of it is not good business," the president said. "It doesn't promote more business, or produce confidence in business generally. Formerly there was a curious notion that if one side in a business transaction profited, the other must necessarily lose. The truth is that when two parties enter into a transaction by which they exchange something which they need less for something they need more, both sides are benefitted. That is the ideal basis of all trade and commerce and it is the real basis of most transactions.

Points to Duty.

"It is the opportunity and duty of real estate men to maintain such a standard. As a rule their service is that of a middleman, bringing buyer and seller together. They will in the long run, prosper if they are guidded by the aim to render a real service to both sides. The transaction whose sole motive is the brokerage fee, is not commendable."

The real estate men had gathered on the south lawn of the white house, and in opening his address, the president greeted them as the purveyors of cheer, confidence and soundly based optimism."

"You are in a very literal sense the sellers of America," he added. "You have sold it so well that it is recognized everywhere as the best buy in the world."

Legislative suggestions and proposals for building up the various branches of the real estate business formed the main part of today's program of the convention.

A. G. Bauder, Cedar Rapids, chairman of the farm lands division's committee on legislation and taxation, urged in a report that the farmer be given "a fair deal instead of a political gesture."

More Complaints On Gasoline War

Renewed complaints were made to Governor Bryan over the long distance telephone from Omaha on Wednesday evening, relative to the alleged ttempt of oil companies there to drive two competitive gasoline filling stations, one operated by Elrod & Howell, the other by Val Peter, out of business because they were selling to the public at 16 cents a gallon and refused to raise the price to 17 cents, the same as other companies and themunicipalfilling station are charging.

Governor Bryan reiterated his former statements to newspaper men, Thursday morning, in which he called on Attorney General Spillman to take immediate action in this matter "so that we may ascertain whether the state, of Nebraska is bigger than the oil combine."

The governor has been asked to appoint a special prosecutor at Omaha, if the state legal department does not act. He gave no intimation as to whether he would do this. A $60,000 appropriation for law enforcement is at Governor Bryan's disposal, and as he contends that the anti-discrimination law is being violated that sum could probably be drawn upon for the purpose mentioned.

New Postmasters For Six Offices

WASHINGTON, June 5—President Coolidge today appointed postmasters for six Nebraska towns. He sent the nominations to the senate where their confirmation is expected before congress adjourns June 7. They are: Arcadia, Lorena D. Doe; Cody, Louis H. Deaver; Gering, J. Ned Allinon; Marquette, Charles O. Lewis; Valparaiso, Carl Carlson; Beaver Crossing, Carl P. Smiley.

DECIDE CONTEST OF DELEGATION

Georgia Negro National Committeeman's Group Seated in G. O. P. Convention.

(Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., June 5.—A letter from the grave suddenly upset the plans of republican party managers for "cleaning up" the long standing factional fight in Georgia, and resulted yesterday in the seating again of delegates headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson, the negro national committeeman from that state, long a stormy petrel before the national conventions.

Just as most of the old line party managers on the committee had decided that Johnson and his delegates must go to make place for those representing the faction formerly headed by J. L. Phillips, which has been recognized by officials of the national committee as representing the regular organization in the state, a letter was produced, written by President Harding to C. Bascom Slemp, now secretary to President Coolidge, saying that in recognizing the Phillips faction a blunder has been made and suggesting that action be taken to alter the situation.

It was a trump card for Johnson and the committee voted, 22 to 14, to seat his delegates.

Improving Pawnee Supply Of Water

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., June 5.—The Pawnee City councilmen are making a thorough envestigation of ways and means of increasing and improving the water supply of the town to a point of safety and are investigating some of the more likely methods which companies have on the market at the present time. A special type of well is being investigated, as is also the chlorination method which has been installed in a small way and is thus far proving successful.

Disbanding of Prohib Party Being Sought

(Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, O., Jun 5.—Resolutions looking to disbandment of the prohibition national party were introduced into its national convention this afternoon. The first was a memorial to that effect from the Nebraska state convention, presented by J. A. Murray, vice chairman of the national committee and sole delegate from that state.

The second was a resolution offered by Robert H. Patten of Springfield, Ill., who suggested that the convention refrain from nominating candidates, taking its principles to other parties and organizing a new party if they fail to adopt them.

An avalanche of points of order followed and both resolutions were referred to the committee on resolutions.

Pawnee Improves Its Fair Grounds

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., June 5.—About twenty-five men interested in the county fair association were at the fair grounds the forepart of the week to assist in tearing down the old grandstand and bleachers, to make room for the new and modern ones which will replace them. Pawnee county fair is one of the largest and best county fairs in the state and the old structures were proving inadequate for the increasing numbers who attend the races each fall. Work on the new building will be commenced soon so that it will be completed before fair week.

Billy Sunday Is In Much Better Health

CHICAGO, June 5.—William A. "Billy" Sunday, feeling chipper and cheery after treatment and clincal observation passed through Chicago yesterday enroute to his home at Winona Lake, Ind., characteristically declaring in commenting on the Robert Franks kidnaping and murder case, that "perdition awaits us."

"The devil and all his kind are ready," the Rev. Sunday said. "This world of ours is headed for Hades so fast that no speed limit can stop it."

An Ounce of Precaution.

An engine that is subject to considerable vibration is liable to have its cylinders work loose on the crank case through the loosening of the holding down nuts if they are not watched. A wrench should be applied to make sure that "everything" is right.

NDICTMENT MAY BE BROUGHT SOON

Many Witnesses Tell Story Of Franks Murder to Grand Jury.

Officers Believe Have Evidence Connecting Boys With Other Crimes.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 5—A score of witnesses testified Wednesday, before the grand jury which has been asked to indict Nathan Leopold, jr, and Richard Loeb, university students and sons of Chicago millionaires, for murder and kidnaping for ransom in connection with the slaying two weeks ago of Robert Franks, school boy son of another wealthy Chicagoan

It was expected that the last witness will appear today and that the grand jury will vote then on the state's attorney's request for indictments on the two charges, each punishable by death if convictions are obtained

Meanwhile the youths who have confessed they kidnaped and killed Robert Franks to obtain excitement and a $10,000 ransom for a trip to Europe, were closely guarded in the county jail to prevent possible suicide attempts while members of the state's attorney's staff and detectives investigated their possible connection with the slaying last fall of Freeman Louis Tracy, a university student, and the mutilation of Charles Ream, a taxi driver

Believe Evidence Found.

Detectives, who have been investigating the slaying of Tracy and the attack of Ream, waiting to appear before the grand jury in connection with the Franks case, asserted that they had found information that may connect the youths with these two crimes They said they expected to resume their investigations today

Many of the witnesses called Wednesday have previously given facts to substantiate details of the boys' confessions

Among those who went before the jury was 9-year-old John Levinson, son of a wealthy attorney, who played ball with Robert Franks on the playground of the private school both attended on the day the Franks boy vanished and who the state believes was selected as the youths' victim in the first place Previously he had told of being approached during the day by Loeb but the state believes Loeb was forced to give up his plan because an instructor was present at the time The instructor also appeared before the grand jury and detectives announced they found a pair of field glasses with which they contend the youths watched a baseball game from a rented automobile the day of the kidnaping in order to select their victim, picking the Franks boy when he passed their car on the way home.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CATTLE—Receipts 4,700. Cattle sold a little more readily this morning and prices ruled mostly strong to 10@15c higher than yesterday. Real prime steers were lacking, the best bringing $10.50. Compared with a week ago, fat cattle values do not show a great deal of change on the whole. Some of the best steers are a little lower, and medium cows have continued to decline, but better grades of cows are fully steady and good heifers look a little higher. Stockers and feeders were slow at the week's decline of 25c or more.

Bulk steers and yearlings $7.50@10.00.

HOGS—Receipts, 18,500. Continued large supplies, moderatae declines elsewhere and lack of important shipper demand were the bear factors in today's session. A few sales to shippers early were at prices 10@15c lower than Wednesday, while packer trade was also slow and around 10@15c lower. Bulk of sales, was noted at $6.50@6.85, with early top $6.85, and some of the best kind held higher.

Bulk 220 to 325 pound butchers $6.75@6.85; top $6.85.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 5.

Stock prices pursued an irregular trend today, as the depression in certain industries outweighed the demand for railroad shares as a market factor. Many southern rail stocks sold at the year's highest price.

With speculative sentiment divided at the opening of today's stock market, prices followed an irregular course.

Renewal of speculative selling on a large scale later caused a more defined reaction as unfavorable trade reports counteracted the influence of recent Washington developments. A number of low priced shares dipped to new low levels for the year, including Cosden, Cuban-American Sugar, Virginia-Carolina preferred and American Sumatra Tobacco, the latter dropping 2¾ points.

Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Stability of railroad shares and heaviness of most other stocks were the contrasting features of the early trading. Accumulation of Southern railway, carrying the stock up 1¾ points to a new top price at 58, had a strengthening effect on other southern and southwestern rail issues. With the prices of raw and refined sugar at new low levels for the year, small offerings were effective in lowering these shares, as well as some of the tobaccos, and oils. Curtailment of production by United States Rubber company subsidiaries accounted for the weakness of these shares. Call money opened at 3 per cent.

Low priced railroad shares continued to move independently of the general list, the Eries spurting upward in the afternoon with Pere Marquette, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, Texas & Pacific and Wabash preferred A.

The closing was irregular. Sugar shares were hammered down with the drop in raw and refined prices to the lowest point in two years. American Sugar preferred fell 5 points to 82, a new 1924 low. Missouri Pacific preferred wa 3 points higher.

SUGAR—Further weakness was shown in the sugar market early today. Prices in all departments sold at the lowest recorded in the past two years. Raws declined ¼c to the basis of 4.77c duty paid for Cuban on sales of 27,000 bags for June shipment.

Raw sugar futures at midday showed declines of 6 to 7 points.

Refined prices were unchanged to 40 points lower.

Refined futures were nominal.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 5.

WHEAT—Material declines in the price of wheat at theo utset oftoday's trading here was ascribed more or less to rains over the Canadian northwest and to the fact that the Liverpool market proved unresponsive to yesterday's advance on this side of the Atlantic. In other quarters, selling was also attributed to President Coolidge's refusal to endorse a proposed substitute for the McNary-Haugen bill. The selling came chiefly from houses that were prominent yesterday on the bull side of the market. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛ to ⅝c lower, with July $1.04¾ to 1.04⅞ and September $1.06⅞ to 1.06¾, were followed by a decided further drop.

Subsequently, word of export purchasing at Winnipeg helped to rally the market here. Besides gosip was current that export bids for U. S. wheat were on export basis. The stimulus, however, failed to last and prices closed weak, ⅝@1⅛c net lower; July $1.04⅜@1.04½ and September $1.05⅞@1.06.

Warmer weather tended to ease down the corn market, and so, too, did wheat weakness. After opening unchanged to ¼ up, July 77⅜ to 77⅛c, corn underwent a moderatae general setback.

The closing was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜@½c lower; July 77@77⅛c@77⅛c.

OATS—Oats were relatively firm owing to improved cash demand. Starting unchanged to ⅛@¼, July 45 to 45⅛c, the market later scored some gains for all deliveries.

PROVISIONS reflected the downturn in hog values.

DRAFT ON STATE GUARANTY FUND OF HALF MILLION

To Use Money to Pay Receivers' Certificates Against Failed Banks.

Assessment to Bring Fund Up to One Percent Legal Minimum.

Another draft on the state guaranty fund amounting to half a million dollars, more or less, is to be made in the near future for the purpose of paying off some of the receivers' certificates against failed banks, which are now maturing. Announcement to this effect has been made from the state banking bureau. The fund will contain about $1,500,000 after the deduction.

A new burden laid upon state banks during the past year was the levying of four assessments for the newly created bankers' conservation fund, which is intended for the use of the guaranty fund commission in aiding weak banks and cleaning up the assets of failed ones. These assessments amounted to $587,396. Part of this money has been lost in trying to keep banks going which later failed. The conservation fund is a sort of shock absorber which helps to reduce the losses to the guaranty fund.

State Trade and Commerce Secretary Knudson informed group meetings of bankers held Wednesday and Thursday, at Bridgeport and Crawford, that another special assessment of about one-fourth of 1 per cent is to be made soon for the purpose of bringing up the guaranty fund to the legal minimum of 1 per cent on total average deposits of state banks. This will bring in about $600,000, and another $120,000 will be realized from the regular semi-annual assessment on July 1, thus building up the fund again to approximately $2,250,000.

The half million dollars to be taken out of the fund and applied on receivers' certificates will not be enough to redeem all the obligations of that kind now coming due. The total is $1,232,620. It will be necessary to reissue $700,000 or more of the certificates for another year. The certificates draw interest at 6 and 7 per cent.

Opposes Changing Law.

While declaring in favor of the plan to make the state banking department separate from all other activities, which he said can be accomplished only through the repeal of the code law, Secretary Knudson declared himself, in his talks before the groups at Bridgeport and Crawford, against making further changes in the banking laws of Nebraska at the next legislative session, except one or two minor amendments which he did not specify.

He is especially opposed to legislation favored by some bankers, which would take the supervision of banks from the hands of the state department and vest it in the guaranty fund commission. The commission has no authority at present over banks which have not been found insolvent and taken over by the department.

Secretary Knudson insists that members of the guaranty fund commission themselves are representatives of the state, and not of the bankers, because they ar appointed by the governor, although the different groups endorse three candidates for each appointment and the governor is restricted in his choice to the names thus submitted.

He also spoke at Bridgeport and Crawford against the proposal for a state tax on gasoline to raise revenue for building highways.

LAFOLLETTE NOT TO BE NOMINATED

Supporters Plan To Prevent Unanimous Selection Of Coolidge.

To Promote Senator's Campaign As An Independent After Convention.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette will not be formally placed in nomination as a presidential candidate at the republican convention at Cleveland, it was declared definitely yesterday by his supporters here.

Under present plans it is understood he will receive, without nomination, the vote of the Wisconsin delegates, with one exception, and that the delegates supporting him will bring in his platform to be offered as a substitute for that presented by supporters of President Coolidge.

When the LaFollette platform is voted down his supporters will remain in the convention, but will refuse to make the nomination of President Coolidge unanimous.

Having finished with the Cleveland convention, the supporters are expected to actively begin to promote his campaign as an independent candidate for the presidency.

Engineers Endorse LaFollette Candidacy

CLEVELAND, June 5.—Delegates to the triennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday adopted a resolution giving a blanket endorsement to all of President Warren S. Stone's policies, financial and political in the conduct of the affairs of the brotherhood.

This puts the organization behind the third party candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin, for president.

TO BOOM BRYAN FOR PRESIDENCY

ernor for presidential honors. V. E. Stahl, another delegate, who is chief clerk in the state agriculture department, is secretary.

Mr. Mutz says in his typewritten announcement regarding the club:

"The purpose of the organizers of the movement is to bring the attention of the democrats throughout the country, and especially the delegates to the national convention, Governor Bryan's availability as the candidate for president this year. The sentiment among the members of the club is the same as has been expressed by Congressman Howard and Mayor Dahlmand of Omaha and others, that Governor Bryan is the only democrat whose nomination by the New York convention would discourage, and in all probability, prevent the creation of a third party candidate under the LaFollette movement.

"Governor Bryan is prabably the only democrat who can carry all the agricultural states of the middle west, all of which are normally republican.

"Governor Bryan has united all of the former factions, elements, creeds and nationalities in the democratic party into one fighting mass of progressive democrats. His record in the city of Lincoln and in the state of Nebraska and his acquaintance throughout the United States appear to make him the most suitable and strongest candidate that the democratic convention can nominate to unite all of the agricultural and wage-earners voters under the democratic banner to sweep the country."

in question he saw two cars on a road he crossed while on his way home after talking for a time with Henefin and Wabs.

Johnson's affidavit corroborates the statements of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart.

Wabs is said to have talked to the Stewarts May 25, 1924, about a week after he made his affidavit for Simmons. Black is said to have talked to them May 18, two days after his affidavit was made.

To Present Depositions.

E. P. Holmes, chief counsel for Simmons, stated that he had not yet received the depositions taken by Josiah Coombs, another member of Simmons legal staff, in Boyd county by which the defense hopes to change the decision of the pardon board.

If they come today they will probably be presented to the pardon board, he said, but intimated that no particular effort would be made to get them there immediately.

Coombs was said to have told Assistant Attorney General Dort that he would present the evidence before the pardon board Thursday morning, but he did not appear.

The board is anxious to pass on the evidence in order that the state will not be put to the expense of bringing an executioner here from the east if a further reprieve is granted and a formal hearing held. W. S. Gilbert, executioner from Trenton, N. J., came to Lincoln May 23 to execute Simmons, but as Governor Bryan had granted a reprieve until June 10 less than twenty-four hours before. his services were not needed.

Warden W. T. Fenton stated that he did not know what action would be taken about summoning the executioner. In case attorneys for Simmons were unable or refused to present their affidavits immediately the warden believed that the executioner would probably be wired to come for June 10.

LAW STUDENTS AT ANNUAL BARBECUE

Program Of Sports and Eats At Automobile Club Park.

Approximately 200 state university law students and graduates left the law college Thursday noon for the annual law barbecue, held during the afternoon at the Lincoln Automobile club park, as a part of the third annual roundup program.

Preceding the trip to the automobile club park the barristers paraded through the streets of Lincoln led by a twelve-piece band consisting of lawyers in their first appearance and musical rehearsal.

The roasting of the huge portions of the steak was under the direction of Billy Westberry, who has been in charge of that part of the program in past years. Frank Watson, chairman of the barbecue committee, had the general management of the affair.

The afternoon program included a baseball game between Phi Delta Chi and Pi Delta, professional law fraternities, horseshoe pitching contests and a boxing bout, in which lightweight boxers were carried on the shoulders of Joy Berquist and Warren Ogden.

Among the out of town guests were Emory Buckner of New York City, Alumni Day orator; Carl Hogerson of Buffalo, Wyo.; Virgil Haggart of Omaha; "Andy" Shoeppel, Nebraska City; Arion Lewis and Judge Hastings of Omaha.

Judges of the Nebraska supreme corut were also invited to attend the barbecue.

Unidentified Man Takes Life Because He Was Too Happy

QUEBEC, June 5.—The body of an unidentified young man, who apparently had committed suicide because wealth had made him "too happy," was found yesterday beside a limousine bearing a New York state license, near St. Come de Beauce, close to the Maine border.

"Do not mind me. My name would be useless to you. But I wish the world to know that I committed suicide because I was too happy. I always got what I wanted in my life. My parents are millionaires.

"I realized all that it was humanly possible to wish. I do not find life good enough to remain in it. I have a strong longing to find out what there is in another life and I am going away."

There was a bullet wound in the head.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A trough of low pressure extends from Minnesota to Oklahoma this morning, and has caused thunder-showers in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys. These were mostly light, but amounted to about an inch along the Missouri river from Tekamah to Plattsmouth. They did not extend into central or western Nebraska. There were also showers in Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. Pressure is rising and tempertature falling in the Rocky mountain states, and cooler weather is expected in eastern Nebraska tonight.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

People born on this date are not usually wage earners, at least they are not very successful at it. When they do earn something, they give it away as fast as they get it

They have very strong religious natures and are often found among church members A creed is of great importance to their happiness and yet they rarely place implicit confidence in theological system, though they will stoutly defend the one they appear to espouse.

The most noticeable trait of the people is their dual personality due to their having been born under the sign of Gemini, the sign of the Twins. The governing planet which works with great speed in assisting the Twins is Mercury and the birthstone is a beryl

The Star Want Ads are particularly boosting real estate just at this time and if you are interested, you should take advantage of their advice.

POLLY AND HER PALS

The Sheik Gets a Message —By CLIFF STERRET

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva.

Dear Minerva: I notice you told a woman who is the mother of several children that she would be in the right to bob her hair. I don't agree with you.

I am well past the thirty mark, am married, happy, the mother of three children. I have heavy brown hair that glints in the sunlight and I am proud of it. That is the reason I did not bob it when the fad first came in for past-the-flapper ages. Then the bob-haired women began begging me to join their ranks.

"Why, I can comb my hair in a minute now."

"My hair was coming out so badly."

"My hair never looked neat before."

"My hair was so heavy it made my headache."

Such were some of the arguments used. But I observed that though these women combed their hair in a minute they combed it at least thirty times a day, privatey and publicly. That their hair was still falling out, visible to the naked eye on the blue dress or suit, due to so much combing and usually curling. That those who must have curls are slaves to the beauty parlors and their pocketbooks are lean indeed. That those who wear it straight are slaves to the barber and never seem to have just the "right cut," that morepver they acquire the habit of a backward toss of the head at incessant intervals to shake the hair from the eyes, which necessitates another combing, which leaves more loose hair on dress or coat or sweater.

No bobbed hair for me, thank you —A MARRIED WOMAN.

A Man's View.

Dear Minerva: As a man I wish to register my extreme dislike of the bobbed hair fad which is growing to be entirely too general for my comfort. I observe that you are of the class that believe bobbed hair is here to stay. Heaven forbid.

There is that about bobbed hair which robs woman of her feminine attractiveness. It gives her the same loose, common appearance that smoking a cigarette or drinking cocktails gives to a woman. A man who desires refinement and genteel charm in a woman resents such tough exteriors.

There are some men of the weaker type who accept any popular innovation, whether proper or improper, whether ennobling or ignoble. By such class no doubt my ideas will be considered Puritanic and old-fashioned. But the stronger, sterner type of men, those whom women should desire most to please, are displeased with this bobbed hair fad and in their esteem a woman is lessened when she submits to the shearer and comes into his presence with abbreviated locks.

It does give a more youthful appearance. That I grant. The American woman seems to think that is all that is necessary. But it also takes away from a woman's character and worth, in fact as well as in appearance.—TOM.

Happy Though Married.

Dear Minerva: I am much interested in the discussion of married happiness in your Mail.

I have often pondered why so many men and women will work for the approval of a stranger at the same time not care for the approval of the nearest and dearest.

To me it seems as if every man were ignorant of the fact that flattery is the strongest weapon to use on the wife. If the middle class so many men complain their homes are neglected, their wives spending time at movie, clubs, etc.

I wonder if they realize that fault-finding, nagging husbands are always portrayed on the screen as the villians while the flattering, devoted gift-lavishing husbnad is a hero. Many wives go to movies to feast their eyes on the ideal husband, he is so opposite from her own.

If every man would tell his wife how sweet she looks in her clean little home and housedress, how well cooked are her meals, regardless of what they may be, I am sure he would be surprised to see how steadily they, house and housewife, would improve.

Flatter your wife and she will deserve and earn those daily compliments. Bring home little tokens of love two or three nights a week. If they should be only a fifteen cent string of beads she will be happy over them. Some evening call in a girl to care for the kiddies and take the wife to a show. It is a small investment but the interest is large.

All men and women do not work hard enough to reach other's approval. If they did there would be less divorces and some very surprised men to find how happy and contented they are.

Partners must work together for success, not against each other. When I first married I am ashamed to say I was a horrid housekeeper. My mother died when I was quite young and I was institution and self-raised. But I married a wonderful man or I would not be writing this letter. Many an evening he came home to find things upset, me in tears, supper burned, my apron soiled. He would help me wash the tears away, laugh as I applied powder and rouge, mixed up the supper to disguise the burned part, chose one of my prettiest housedresses, then took me to the table and told me how pretty I looked and always a present at my plate, a ten-cent bar of candy, a pencil, cook book or beauty pins. How we have laughed over these worthless gifts since. Sometimes there were flowers of the cheapest grade. But I worked harder every day to really deserve the compliments. Today, I am considered a very neat housewife, we are declared an ideal couple. And as I look back over our two short years of married life I see where the credit belongs. My husband says he had to fight a terrible temper to keep from giving me the scolding I deserved. But he is glad he did not scold as he is getting his reward now.—A REFORMED HOUSEKEEPER.

DAIRY SOCIETY IS TO EXHIBIT

Will Send Herd of Prize Cattle to National Show This Fall.

Officers and members of the board of directors of the Nebraska State Dairymen's association, meeting at the agricultural college campus Wednesday afternoon, decided to arrange exhibits at the state fair, to take a dairy prize herd to national dairy association meetings in the fall, and to have every member of the state association attend the national convention at Milwaukee if possible.

The association will also co-operate with the Burlington railroad in its dairy train project. A train will be run through the state by that company offering "new bulls for old" to farmers at stations along the route.

Delegates to the Milwaukee convention are to be elected at a meeting later in the summer. The state Holstein association is also to help in exhibiting a herd of dairy cattle at the Milwaukee show, and at the National Dairy Cattle conference at Waterloo, Ia. In charge of this work for the dairy association will be the following committee members, appointed at the Wednesday meeting: W. Frost of Lincoln, Charles Williams of College View and M. N. Lawritson of Lincoln. The cattle will be picked from herds over the state.

H. P. Davis reported at the meeting on the work of the committee which had charge of the high school dairy cow judging contest held last month at the college of agriculture. During the contest, ten medals and one loving cup were given away. Five medals were awarded to the individuals with general high scores, two to high men in the butterfat testing contests, and three to the best judges of different breeds of cattle. The loving cup went to the high score team.

OUTLINE PROGRAM OF EPWORTH MEET

Lectures and List of Entertainments and Music Features Planned.

Lectures by noteworthy men and a long list of music and entertainment features made up the tentative program of the annual Nebraska Epworth Assembly to be held July 31 to August 10 this year at Epworth Lake park.

None of the assembly talent appears elsewhere in Nebraska during the summer, according to an announcement just made public. C. C. Stanton of the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. and Miss Viva E. Monahan of the Lincoln public schools will lead in a recreation program. On six days of the assembly, a Bible conference will be conducted by capable leaders.

Besides two lecturers who have not been announced, the following will give addresses: Bishop Frederick T. Keeney of the Omaha area; Frank Hollman, who is to speak on "Pigeons, Their Habits and Uses;" Carl Thompson of Chicago, "Super-Power;" Jessie H. Holmes of Swarthmore college, "War, Its Cost and Who Pays for It;" Tom Skeyhill of Australia, "The Trojan Way;" Anna Dickie Oleson of Minnesota, "Woman in Politics;" Dr. I. T. Headland, president of the Peking University for sixteen years, "Some By-Products of Civilization;" L. C. Oberlies, chairman of the Nebraska board of control, "Our State Institutions;" Charles H. Plattenburg, traveller, "A Modern Tale of Two Cities;" Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, president of the W. F. M. S., "A Bay with Holes;" and Dr. Stanley Jones.

On the musical program will appear "The Armstrongs;" the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce glee club; an opera, "The Gondoliers," under the direction of May Valentine; The Davis Sisters; Irene Stolofski, Polish violinist, assisted by Clifford R. Bloom, leading tenor of the San Carlos opera company next season and by Magdalen Massmann, pianist; a famous Russian cathedral quartet; Cameron McLean, Scottish baritone; Ethel Wright and Thomas Fulson, New York singers; the "Cotton Blossom Singers."

The entertainment as now planned will consist of a reading by Selma Lenhart of Pittsburg; Walter Eccles and William Pearsal, in a program of impersonation and fun; "Captain Applejack," with a large company; "Give and Take," by the William Keighley company of New York; the Ann Varner Baker company; and moving pictures at Epworth hall.

Anti-Saloon League Is Not Asking Dry Plank

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The selection of candidates unquestionably favorable to prohibition is more important than dry platform declarations, the legislative committee of the anti-saloon league announced yesterday.

"The national Anti-Saloon league has never asked for a dry plank in any political platform," the announcement said. "It has never considered prohibition a political party issue. A dry plank will not assure the votes of wet congressmen in the enactment of laws, but will embarrass the friends of prohibition in their fight against wet candidates for congress hiding behind dry planks in their platforms."

DRIVE IS STARTED.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The independent order of B'Nai B'Ruth has launched a war against the abuse of the sacramental wine privileges, under the Volstead act, Adolph Krause, president of the organization, announced yesterday.

Kiwanis Club To See Demonstration

A demonstration of some of the things which can be done for the underprivileged child will be given Friday at the noon luncheon of the Lincoln Kiwanis club. Mrs. Anna DeVore, in charge of oral instruction for deaf children in the Lincoln public schools, with a number of her pupils, will be a guest of the club and show just how she does her work. Leland Wood, violinist at the University School of Music will also be on the program, with his sister Miss Velma Woood at the piano.

Lincoln Kiwanians will hold their "All Kiwanis Night" at that time at Kiwanis camp at Milford June 16. There will be a picnic lunch and entertainment by the Camp Fire girls, who will put on a program of water stunts in the afternoon and also in the evening.

There will be no meetings of the club during July and August, the board of directors has announced.

they all fall for Oh Henry!

The biggest hit with the girls since the first pompadour blossomed over a male brow. And no wonder! He's so sweet! Say Oh Henry! anywhere, and see if YOU don't fall for him, too. 10c a bar!

How to Whip Cream Successfully

"Here Is All That Is Needed"

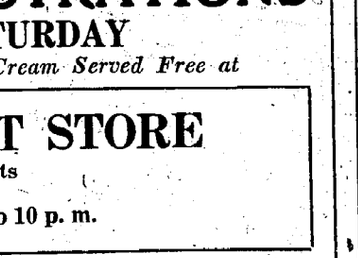

An Ordinary Egg Beater

and a Double Cooker

Roberts XX Whipping Cream

Ice and Water

TO WHIP CREAM EASILY quickly and successfully in warm weather—all that is needed is an ordinary egg beater and a double-cooker, such as will be found in every kitchen. Have iced water in the lower compartment of the cooker and ROBERT'S XX WHIPPING CREAM in the upper compartment—then with the egg beater it will be an easy matter to produce a fine grade of Whipped Cream in a few minutes. To sweeten the cream, add a little POWDERED SUGAR at the last.

TRY THIS AND SEE HOW EASY IT IS
